TO THE AUSTRALIAN WOOL PRODUCERS.
GENTLEMEN,—I beg permission to inform you that I have returned from San Francisco with largely extended powers on behalf of Messrs. J. C. MERRILL and CO., of that city, and am ready to afford every information and facility for the greater development of the WOOL TRADE between the respective continents.
The immense advantage in price and prompt returns, which the American market offers as compared to the Home trade, have been realized upon a few experimental shipments made last year under my selection, and to these I have permission to refer. The peculiarities of the requirements of the woollen houses in the States have but to be met by proper selection here, and a large profit is inevitable.
I am authorised to purchase an interest and make liberal advances upon consignments of greasy wools, and it will afford me much pleasure to at once open up correspondence with any growers desirous of testing the American market with a portion or the whole of their clip.
I remain, Gentlemen, yours faithfully,
HARRY A. GILLIAT.

1. Each Tender must be for the amount of one or more Debentures, and must be endorsed "Tender for Debentures."
2. The price tendered must be for the principal sum of the Debentures.
3. In the event of equivalent Tenders being received, in excess of the Debentures for disposal, a pro rata distribution will be made.
4. If the Tender be accepted, Debentures for such amounts as may be required, will be issued in sums of £100, £500, and £1000 each, secured upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund of New South Wales, and will bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly, on the 1st of January and the 1st of July in each year. Parties tendering should state in which of the above sums they wish the Debentures issued.
5. The principal sum will be payable on the 1st July, 1902, either in Sydney, Melbourne, or London, at the option of the holder, but notice must be given, on or before the 1st January, 1902, of the place at which it is intended to present the Debentures for the payment of such principal.
6. The Debentures will be dated 2nd September, 1872. The interest will commence on 1st October, 1872, and the amount of such interest for the quarter ending 31st December, 1872, will be payable either in Sydney or Melbourne—and after that date, half-yearly, either in Sydney, Melbourne, or London, at the option of the holder—provided that the place at which the payment of interest is to be made after 1st January, 1873, be endorsed on the Debentures; any change that it may be desired to make in this respect being previously registered and endorsed on the Debentures, at the Treasury in Sydney, or at the Office of the Banking Agents in Melbourne or London, six months prior to the date on which such interest shall be payable.
7. The Debentures will be transferable by delivery.
8. The amount tendered, if accepted, must be paid in cash on the 1st of October, 1872, on which day the Debentures will be deliverable.

LAW.

SUPREME COURT.—WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11.
SITTINGS IN BANCO.

BEFORE Sir ALFRED STEPHEN, C. J., Mr. Justice BARGRAVE, and Mr. Justice CHEEKE.

WHITING V. THROSBY—FOREIGN ATTACHMENT.

This was a proceeding upon summons for the examination of witnesses in an action under the Foreign Attachment Act, in which there had been a return of non est inventus to the writ. The defendant was Mr. Archer Broughton Throsby; and it was sought to examine the persons alleged to be garnishees of his estate.

Mr. Darley appeared for the plaintiff in the action; Mr. Davis for the garnishees.

It was ruled by the Court upon a preliminary objection being taken, that, although the application was ex-parte, Mr. Davis might be allowed, in the exercise of their Honors' discretionary power, to cross-examine the witnesses. The evidence of the plaintiff (Mr. Whiting) and Mr. W. W. Billyard was then taken.

The facts appeared to be, shortly, as follow: In the year 1868 the defendant, Mr. A. B. Throsby, having become involved in pecuniary difficulties, was desirous of making some arrangement for the purpose of freeing himself from his embarrassments, and with that view entered into an arrangement with his brother, Mr. Oliver S. Throsby, and Mr. W. W. Billyard. In April, 1868, he executed an absolute conveyance to those gentlemen of all his real estate, which was very extensive, for the sum of £200. The consideration money was duly paid; and shortly afterwards Mr. Throsby went to reside in the Fijis. His estate remained in the hands of Mr. O. S. Throsby and Mr. Billyard; the understanding having been that those gentlemen were to manage it, clear off liabilities, and, ultimately, if practicable, recover the property. But this arrangement was merely honorary so far as Mr. O. S. Throsby and Mr. Billyard were concerned; the conveyance having been, to all intents and purposes, absolute and direct. The estate was managed accordingly by Mr. Billyard and Mr. O. S. Throsby, but chiefly by the former. According to his evidence and an account which he had kept, Mr. A. B. Throsby had been debited with the £200 paid him as consideration-money when he executed the deed, but which in reality had been an advance out of the estate. He was also debited with four years' interest upon the £200; also with a sum of £100 forwarded to the Fijis for him at his own request; and with sundry debts which Mr. Billyard had paid off for him at his request; the total debit being about £600. He was credited with a sum of £283 10s. 9d. arising from rents and profits of the estate; but there were further charges for commission upon the collection of such rents, &c. Mr. Billyard admitted that at the time the deed was executed, he had not been a creditor of the vendor's, although Mr. O. S. Throsby had been; and that after repayment of the amounts which he had advanced out of the estate, and for which he was personally responsible to the estate, he had no claim upon the property. The arrangement had been entirely a friendly one; and the reason of the deed having been made absolute was, that Mr. Billyard had declined to bind himself in any way for the re-conveyance, although he pledged himself to re-convey if it were feasible to do so. In the month of January, 1868, and before the execution of the deed, Mr. A. B. Throsby had given a promissory note at three months for £83 13s. 4d., in payment of a debt owing to Mr. George Whiting, for goods sold and delivered; and in the following month he became further indebted to Whiting. The latter, never having obtained a settlement of his claim, instituted proceedings under the Foreign Attachment Act against Throsby; and the latter's brother and Billyard were now summoned to give evidence, as garnishees of the estate. The question raised upon the evidence was whether Messrs. Throsby and Billyard were in reality vendees or merely garnishees—the primary object of the proceding being to ascertain, if possible, whether Mr. A. B. Throsby had any available property in this colony. In that case, an order of attachment against it would have been sought.

Their HONORS declined to make any order against the estate. They did not consider that the defendant had at the present time any legal or equitable interest in the property conveyed.

LORIMER AND OTHERS V. PIPE.—NEW TRIAL MOTION.

This was a motion upon rule nisi to enter nonsuit in, or for new trial of, this action, which was tried last sittings before Mr. Justice Cheeke and a jury of four, and resulted in a verdict for the plaintiffs, with £96 18s. damages.

Sir William Manning, Q C., Mr. Henry Stephen, and Mr. Davis appeared in support of the motion; Mr. Darley and Mr. Salomons to show cause.

The arguments were commenced, but had not terminated at the rising of the Court.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.
WEDNESDAY.

BEFORE Mr. District Court Judge DOWLING.

WHITE V. TIERNEY AND WIFE.

This was an action brought by James White against Daniel Tierney and wife for slander. The "slander" complained of was that the female defendant in this action had alleged that plaintiff had obtained goods under false pretences; that plaintiff was a "thief," and had by trick, or fraud, obtained goods from Mr. Hanks's shop, and had appropriated them to his (plaintiff's) own use. And plaintiff claimed £30 damages. It appeared that this was a case arising out of the circumstances incidental to a previous action—brought by Mr. Hanks, the grocer, for the cost of grocery goods, by his servant supplied. In that case it was proved that the goods for which the claim was then made, had been supplied at Mr. Tierney's house; and, although Mr. and Mrs. Tierney denied all knowledge of the receipt of such goods, yet, on the evidence adduced, Mr. Tierney was ordered to pay for the same. The defence in this present action was "not guilty," it being left to be inferred that what Mrs. Tierney had said to White (at one time in Mr. Tierney's employ as a cook) was of the nature of a privileged communication. It was chiefly through the evidence of White in the previous action that a verdict had been given against Tiernoy. The plaintiff in the present action deposed to the utterance of the language complained of, and on cross-examination swore most positively to the order, and to delivery of the goods referred to. He swore also that Mrs. Tierney wrote the order and gave it to him, and that he never had been drunk when in Tierney's service. A shop assistant of Mr. Hanks proved the delivery of the goods. Mrs. Tierney swore that she never had used the slanderous language against White which he had imputed to her; that she never did write the order for the goods upon which the goods were supplied, or any other such order; and that White was, moreover, a man who had been drunk every other day whilst in her service. She never sent White to Hanks's shop but once, and then she gave him five shillings to pay for what she wanted. Mr. Tierney gave evidence, to a certain extent, in corroboration of the evidence of Mrs. Tierney—that is to say, as far as his own personal knowledge went; White was often drunk when in his (Tierney's) service. Verdict for the plaintiff, £10. Mr. W. Roberts for the plaintiff, and Mr. T. B. Watson for the defendant.

HUGHES V. WILSON.

This was an action brought by James Hughes against Elizabeth Wilson, administratrix of the estate of the late James Alexander Ternen, for money lent, and money had and received; plaintiff claiming £33 10s. The defendant pleaded formally, "Never indebted;" it being also relied on, for the defence, that the claim had been satisfied by the deceased, and that, in any case, the supposed debt was covered by the Statute of Limitations. The plaintiff deposed that he had originally lent the sum claimed (£33 10s.) to the deceased, mother of the deceased James Alexander Ternen; plaintiff permitted Elizabeth Wilson (the defendant) to have the use of this money as the daughter of his sister, and the sister and administratrix of the said James Alexander Ternen; when Ternen's mother (plaintiff's sister) had been dead six months Ternen gave the plaintiff the produced acknowledgement of the debt—the money being advanced by plaintiff to buy mourning for his four nieces a few days after the death of Mrs. Ternen. The money, by plaintiff's consent, was divided amongst Mrs. Ternen's daughters. The cheque produced for £34 in favour of Hughes, was not, as plaintiff averred, in payment of the money lent by plaintiff. Plaintiff at first thought this cheque for £34 was in the handwriting of a Mr. Marshall, the husband of one of his nieces. On looking more closely, however, at the cheque, by means of a pair of spectacles, plaintiff was satisfied that this £34 cheque was in James Alexander Ternen's handwriting. The cheque was as plaintiff stated for a debt of £29, and for a present of £5. It did not in any way refer to the debt of £33 10s. now sued for. Mr. William Marshall remembered seeing this cheque for £34 some six years ago, but he did not know how it first came into his possession, or when it was paid into the Bank. It was afterwards shown by the production of a pass-book that this cheque was dated 31st December, 1866 (not long after Mrs. Ternen's death) and it was paid at the Bank on the 8th of April, 1869. Mr. James Alexander Ternen died about six months ago. The counsel for the defence argued that the money mentioned in the acknowledgment held by Hughes was for money which had been paid over six years ago. Further, that there was no "consideration" whatsoever. The money, according to Hughes' own account, was spent to purchase mourning for his (Hughes) nieces. There was no book, or memorandum, or evidence to substantiate the validity of any such a claim—which was beyond question a stale one. The counsel urged that the direct conclusion must be that this £33 10s. had been paid by the cheque for £34. It was not until after Ternen's death that the action was brought. Why did the plaintiff sue the sister, who was the administratrix, and not the man himself? He claimed a verdict for the defendant. The counsel for the plaintiff, on the other hand, insisted that the case for the plaintiff had been clearly made out, and that all the inferences claimed by the counsel for the defence were utterly groundless. The plaintiff's evidence was, as it seemed to him, thoroughly reliable and conclusive. The Judge was of opinion that the plaintiff ought to recover, and gave a verdict for the plaintiff in the amount claimed, £33 10s. Mr. W. J. Foster, instructed by Mr. T. K. Bowden, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Salomons, instructed by Mr. Barker, appeared for the defendant.

MURPHY AND SON V. SHEFFIELD.

John Murphy and George F. Murphy sued Sheffield for goods sold and delivered. Plaintiffs claimed £25 11s. 6d. Verdict (by consent), £22 5s. 6d.

STUART V. BROWN.

This was an action wherein John Stuart sued Patrick Brown for goods sold and delivered; plaintiff claiming £14 15s. 7d. The claim was for glass and paints, &c., supplied by plaintiff to defendant, when plaintiff sold to defendant and a Mr. Waters, jointly, the stock of a shop he owned in Pitt-street. It appeared from the evidence for the plaintiff that Mr. Waters had paid his moiety, but that defendant's moiety remained due. This, as a matter of fact, was denied by the plaintiff, who went into the accounts stated between the parties to the cause. Defendant produced receipts for the money paid by him, but plaintiff stated that he had not been paid for some ladders which had passed into defendant's possession. The case for the defendant was that he had paid all that was demanded of him by plaintiff three or four years ago, and that plaintiff had then given defendant an acquittance in full of all demands. The plaintiff was nonsuited. Mr. Manning, instructed by Mr. Billyard, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Want, instructed by Mr. Kearney, appeared for the defendant.

SUTTON V. LLOYD.

This was an action wherein Joseph Sutton sued three contractors, William Fairclough Lloyd, Joseph William Tilson, and Kearney, for work and labour, materials, and money paid. Plaintiff claimed £120 for floating a company entitled "The Great Tunnel Company," Slaughter-Yard Reef, Gulgong. It appeared from the evidence of the plaintiff (who was a mining agent) that he was engaged by defendants, and one named James Atkinson, to aid in "launching and promoting the Great Tunnel Company, at Gulgong." Plaintiff charged £100 for work and labour from January, 1872, to July, 1872, and sued for the same. Plaintiff sued for 8s. 2d. paid for telegrams, £2 for postage stamps, and fifteen guineas for printing the prospectus of the said company—making a total claim of £120. Plaintiff swore he was personally engaged by the three defendants, and one James Atkinson, and was authorised by a written document, dated the 29th January last, to act as their agent. He did so act, and published the company and circulated its prospectuses largely in Sydney and in the country. Plaintiff found he could not put the thing through so long as Mr. Lloyd's name was in the company; people objecting to that gentleman. Plaintiff therefore suggested that it should be worked as a "promoters" company, and stated his reasons. Mr. Lloyd at that became very angry and took the company out of plaintiff's hands. Plaintiff had been promised by defendant £100, when the company should be floated. Plaintiff understood that the company had since been floated—or that attempts had been made to float it. Cross-examined by Mr. Hellyer: Plaintiff explained that he never received any money for the sale of shares: he never sold any. In the event of the company being floated, plaintiff was to receive 300 shares, and the sum of £200 was to be divided between him and those for whom he was agent, for expenses incurred. Plaintiff had no experience in floating gold mining companies before this; but he had since. Plaintiff had said that "in all probability" he could get Mr. Sutherland, Mr. Alger, and another gentleman for directors. It was not said that plaintiff was not to be paid until he floated the company; or if he did not. It was so set down in the prospectus, but it was not in the agreement between the plaintiff and the defendants. It was in February last that plaintiff heard Mr. Lloyd objected to as a director. It was understood that one half of the shares would be taken up at Gulgong, but none had been taken up. Mr. J. Delany gave evidence as to the meeting held about the company at Greville's Commercial Rooms. Mr. Sutton called a meeting there to know what was to be done in the matters of the Great Tunnel Company at Gulgong. Mr. Lloyd said that Mr. Sutton had not floated the company, and that it should be taken out of his hands; he said he would have nothing further to do with him. This was the case for the plaintiff. Mr. Kearney (one of the defendants) swore that Mr. Sutton was engaged to float the company. The clear understanding was, that if the plaintiff floated the company he was to receive 300 shares of £1 scrip, and have his expenses paid by a share (with the directors) out of £200. If he did float the company he was to have £300 in shares; if he did not float the company it was not agreed to give him anything. Mr. W. F. Lloyd, another of the defendants, also swore that the promise to pay the plaintiff was purely conditional on his floating the company—which he did not do. Mr. Sutton promised to float the company in a month. According to Mr. Lloyd it was the name of Mr. Sutton that prevented the successful floating of the company. Through the fact that Mr. Sutton did not float this company he (Mr. Lloyd) had been ruined. Mr. Lloyd detailed the way in which attempts had been made to float this company, by giving away one thousand £1 shares, in scrip, to influential persons to float the company. This was the usual custom in such cases, but all the attempts failed. Mr. Hellyer, for the defendants, urged that the terms of the contract were such that plaintiff could recover nothing whatever. Mr. Walsh submitted that his client was entitled to his claim quantum meruit for the work he had undoubtedly performed. Verdict for the plaintiff, fifteen guineas. Mr. Walsh for the plaintiff, and Mr. Hellyer for the defendant.

INSOLVENCY COURT.
WEDNESDAY.

BEFORE the CHIEF COMMISSIONER.

In the estate of John M'Phee, a single meeting. One creditor proved his claim, and examined insolvent.

In the estate of William Black, a single meeting. Two debts were proved. Insolvent was allowed to retain his household furniture and wearing apparel.

In the estate of Henry O. Thompson, a single meeting. One debt was proved, and the official assignee read his report.

In the estate of Archibald Murray, a single meeting. Two debts were proved, and the official assignee read his report.

In the estate of Edward Samuell, a single meeting. One debt was proved. Insolvent was examined, and was directed to supply the names of creditors in part C. of his schedule, and within ten days to amend part D. by affidavit; and further, to file twelve months' accounts under rules 22 and 23. The meeting was adjourned until the 25th.

In the estate of Walter Cousins, a third meeting. Two debts were proved, and the assignee's report was read.

SURRENDERS.

Edwin Day, of Gulgong, miner, upon petition and affidavit. Mr. Sempill, official assignee.

Henry Sutherland, of Newcastle, mariner. Liabilities, £168. Assets, £26. Mr. Mackenzie, official assignee.

COURT BUSINESS.

Thursday, September 12, at 11 a.m.—Before the Chief Commissioner: Samuel Terry Hughes, deceased, rule nisi to set aside summons for examination. Accounts current and plans of distribution for confirmation in the following estates:—Estate of Thomas Phillips, first plan, dividend 4s 4¾d per £ on proved concurrent debts; estate of John Steel, a dividend of 3s 8½d per £ on proved concurrent debts, and payment in full of a preferent debt: estate of Robert John Higgins, a first plan dividend 2s 10d in £ on concurrent debts, and one preferent proof for rent; estate of Maurice Jackson (should be Ickerson), first dividend of 2s 7¾d in £ on one preferent proof for rent; estate of William Alfred Hollingshead, an account current showing the moneys received and expended with the balance in hand. Motion: Estate of Maurice Ickerson, for ratification or otherwise of directions of creditors from the 11th of April last; George Lee, for ratification or otherwise of directions of creditors; official assignees to be heard as to the accounts and plans of distribution six months and upwards in arrear; Ebenezer Doust, for ratification or otherwise of directions of creditors.

MEETINGS OF CREDITORS.

Thursday, September 12, at 11 a.m.—Before the Chief Commissioner: Samuel Terry Hughes, deceased, adjourned examination from the 12th ultimo.

Friday, September 13, at 11 a.m.—Before the Chief Commissioner: Frederick Gustavus Lender (trading as F. G. Lender and Co.), third meeting; William Spear and Frederick Bond, second meeting; George Underwood Grimes, adjourned single from the 23rd ultimo; Robert Charles Franks, adjourned single from the 23rd ultimo; James Dudden Brondribb, second meeting; William John Pullen, special, for proof of debt; Jeremiah Murphy, adjourned single from the 30th ultimo; Frederick Ernest George Croft, adjourned special, for proof of debt, from the 6th instant.

Friday, September 13, at 11 a.m.—Before the District Commissioner: James Molony, first and only meeting, at West Kempsey; William Simes Bell, first and only meeting, at Scone; Thomas Duggan, first and only meeting, at Mudgee; James Diver, first and only meeting, at Newcastle; Michael Pearce, first and only meeting, at Newcastle; John Heffernan, special, for proof of debts, at Armidale.

Monday, September 16, at 11 a.m.—Before the Chief Commissioner: Maurice Ickerson, official assignee to file plan.

Tuesday, September 17, at 11 a.m.—Before the District Commissioner: Thomas Cooper, first and only meeting, at Newcastle.

APPLICATIONS FOR CERTIFICATES.

Tuesday, September 17, at 11 a.m.—Before the Chief Commissioner: Mary Anne Hudson, Joseph Carberry, Patrick Cahill, Flood and Clark (exparte William Flood), adjourned certificate from the 6th ultimo; Matthew Keating, John Webb, adjourned certificate from the 23rd ultimo; Jenah Evans, Thomas Shelly Lumley, adjourned certificate from the 20th ultimo; Michael Gabriel Cunningham, adjourned certificate from the 20th ultimo; Napoleon Smith, adjourned from the 27th ultimo; William Govers, adjourned from the 3rd instant; James Irons, adjourned from the 3rd instant; Charles Boscawen Ranclaud, adjourned from the 3rd instant.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.
WEDNESDAY.

BEFORE the Mayor and the Police Magistrate, with Messrs. Day, Pinhey, Hughes, Moares, and Pemell.

Thirteen persons were fined in the usual penalties for drunkenness, riotous behaviour, &c.

Walter Williams was fined 20s., or, in default of payment, to be imprisoned seven days, on conviction of having offended against decency in Hyde Park, between the hours of 1 and 2 yesterday.

Thomas Shannon was found guilty of having assaulted one Benjamin Thomas, and was for his offence sentenced to pay a penalty of 1s. with 6s. 6d. costs, or to be imprisoned twenty-four hours.

Two prisoners were discharged, and one was remanded.

On the summons paper were eight cases. In Richard Peck, jun., v. Robert Gray, the complainant alleged that he is the duly appointed official manager of a certain company formed and registered under the provisions of the Act of Council 24 Victoria, No. 21, and called the Rosella Copper Mining Company, limited, of Sydney, and the Robert Gray, of Sydney, warehouseman, is the holder of fifty shares in the said company, and is as such shareholder, indebted to the said company in the sum of £12 10s., for and in respect of two several calls of 2s. 6d. upon each of the said shares, whereby an action has accrued to the said company by virtue of the provisions of said Act 24 Victoria No. 21, and of the Act 34 Victoria No. 16, to demand and have of the said Robert Gray, the sum of £12 10s., yet the said Robert Gray has not paid the same, contrary to the Act in such case made and provided. Defendant pleaded cause to show. Mr. Windeyer (who, instructed by Mr. Dawson, conducted the complainant's case) put in evidence the memorial stating all particulars in connection with the Rosella Copper Mining Company; defendant admitting that he is the Robert Gray mentioned and referred to therein. Complainant deposed that he is the legal manager of the company, and produced defendant's application for shares; defendant paid a deposit, and paid on allotment, but has not paid any calls due on the shares allotted to him; two calls of 2s 6s. each are due in respect of the fifty shares allotted to defendant, which amounts he neglects to pay; produced a book called the Share Register of the company; defendant's name appears therein as a shareholder; defendant told him that he would not pay the calls, as he thought that he was not liable under the prospectus. On cross-examination by defendant, the complainant said that four directors were present when he received instructions to take this proceeding; the prospectus (produced) and portions of one of application for shares (produced), are portions of one document; no shares have been forfeited. Mr. Gray here admitted that he authorised Mr. Peck to sign the application for fifty shares. This closed the case. The Police Magistrate said, that as it appeared to him the information should be dismissed. Defendant applied for so many shares in accordance with the terms of the prospectus, one condition of which is that in the event of the non-payment of calls the shares must be—not may be—forfeited; by which condition the defendant is willing to abide. Mr. Pinhey, who was with the Police Magistrate in the hearing of the case, was of a contrary opinion. The application and the prospectus must be looked upon and taken together as one document. Mr. Gray admits that the application was signed by his authority, the registration has been made, and the Act has been complied with. He thinks the Act as making it compulsory upon the directors to forfeit the shares, but as merely authorising them so to do if they should think fit. Under there circumstances no order was made. In Bowers v. Haslam, a suit for the recovery of wages, complainant obtained an order. In Hamilton v. Parkes, affiliation, an order for payment of 4s. a week was made. A Mrs. Clayton was fined 1s. for a breach of the Impounding Act. Of the rest, one case was dismissed, another was postponed, and two were struck out for want of prosecution.

WATER POLICE COURT.
WEDNESDAY.

BEFORE Messrs. Lester, Josephson, Spence, Richardson, and Smart.

Twelve drunkards were fined.

James Powell was charged with stealing a piece of print, valued at 15s., the property of A. S. Appleton. The piece of print was stolen from prosecutor's shop door, where it was exposed for sale, and prisoner was afterwards seen by a man named Matthew Hill going along Clarence-street with the roll of print under his arm. The Bench sent prisoner to gaol for six months.

SUMMONS SHEET.—George Moss, for being the keeper of a dog which attacked a horse on the South Head Road, was fined 20s. and 2s 6d costs. James Scott was similarly punished for using obscene language in Mort-street, Balmain. Eight persons were fined for allowing animals to stray. John Sainty, for feeding a horse in Cumberland-street, was fined 2s 6d and 2s 6d costs of Court. A warrant was issued for the apprehension of Frank Killeen, who failed to appear in answer to a summons, charging him with using obscene language. Richard Smith, landlord of the Lily of St. Leonards Hotel, was fined 20s. and 5s. 6d. costs of Court, for allowing disorderly conduct in his licensed house. Two cases were dismissed, and in another the summons had not been served.

THE WARRAGAMBA WATER SCHEME.

A PUBLIC meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of hearing a paper read by Mr. Thomas Woore upon a system of works to supply Sydney and the suburbs with water, to irrigate the northern part of the county of Cumberland, and to supply all the towns in the county with water, and to relieve the Hawkesbury from devastating floods. There were about fifty gentlemen present; amongst them were Sir T. A. Murray, the Hon. S. D. Gordon, the Hon. H. Moore, the Hon. T. W. Smart, Mr. G. King, Mr. J. Alger, Dr. Garran, Alderman Moore, Dr. Dansey, Mr. W. Bailey (Mayor of Newtown), Mr. John Young, Mr. J. Neale, M.L.A., Mr. E. Flood.

The Mayor of Sydney (Mr. Michael Chapman) presided, and introduced Mr. Woore to the meeting.

Mr. WOORE then read the following, which had been printed in the form of a pamphlet:—

On the Warragamba Water Scheme, proposed by Mr. Woore, a member of the Water Commission.

The tracing of this magnificent scheme, as proposed to carry it through the country, is shown in the accompanying map. It consists of a system of works to supply sydney and its suburbs with water; to irrigate the northern part of Cumberland, and supply all the towns there with water; and to relieve the Hawkesbury from devastating floods. If carried out, the anxiety that exists in reference to the first would be entirely removed now and for ever. The second would convert the greater part of Cumberland County into a productive garden, instead of being, as now, a comparative waste, and promote health, comfort, and industry in the towns to the highest degree. And the last relieve the unfortunate inhabitants of that fine district from an intolerable evil that unless removed will always endanger life, and be a clog on energy and success. This country, with immense advantages in climate, soil, productions, and situation, has the great drawback of a want of regular moisture in the interior, and an ample supply of water in the towns. The Almighty has been most provident in giving us quantity, but at irregular periods, leaving it to the reasoning powers of man to regulate such supply to his own benefit, which it is the aim of this scheme to do. It requires very little discrimination to see the immense advantages that would accrue to the colony if it can be carried out, and the object of this paper is to show its practicability, notwithstanding what obstructionists may say. There are four heads under which the subject may be considered:—

1. What means are there for securing the very large quantity of water that would be required for these purposes?
2. Is it practicable to dispose of that quantity when obtained, as proposed in the plan?
3. What would be the cost of doing so?
4. What return may reasonably be expected from the capital expended?

In the absence of a complete survey, it is impossible to reply to these queries with the precision necessary before determining on such a work; but there is sufficient authentic data in hand to prove that the scheme is quite practicable, and that it may be carried out at a comparatively moderate cost, for there are no very expensive works to be undertaken, and those that are necessary may be accurately estimated, as they are all in view, which is not the case in tunnelling through mountains of unknown structure.

In viewing the first question, What means are there for securing sufficient water?

The catchment area of the fluid that flows down the Warragamba, as ascertained by the Water Commission, is 3247 square miles, embracing not only a considerable portion of the southern coast storms, but those that fall on the whole of the eastern slopes of the main dividing range, from Lake George to Wolgan, at the head of Cox's River, a distance of over 150 miles—a space that, if the estimated fall of rain in inches was multiplied into, as is usual, would produce an almost unintelligible number of gallons, the quantity would be so great. However pleasing this mode of calculating may be to some, I have little faith in such estimated masses of figures, nor do I see why such large quantities of water should be calculated in so small a measure as a gallon, which does not convey an idea to the mind. In the Royal Navy we note our supplies in tons, which is much more intelligible, though not so imposing to the uninitiated. However, this area is so very extensive there cannot be a doubt that sufficient rain water falls upon it to meet the largest demand that

Besides the tunnel that has been described as a channel leading from the reservoir, which would be 650 yards in length, there are but three others of 260 yards, 221 yards, and 1000 yards long—in all 2181 yards—the first three through sandstone, the latter a sandstone formation. The elevated aqueducts required between Mulgoa and Prospect are a bridge across the Nepean River where the gorge to be spanned is 300 feet wide; at a height of 141 feet above its bed. A plan of a masonry structure is given, with three semi-circular arches of 80 feet span, resting upon two light piers that a tolerably correct estimate may be made from; there would be no sinking for foundation, as the bed of the river is composed of solid rock, which only requires levelling; nor for abutments, as the banks are the same, and excellent material for ashlar work is lying conveniently at hand—avoiding haulage. The width of this bridge would depend upon the quantity of water that was determined should pass over it, and this would regulate the cost. The only other work of this nature would be an aqueduct to cross the valley of South Creek—1000 or 1500 yards in length; it would require to be 60 feet above the bed of the creek, lessening in height towards each extreme. There is no sandstone near, consequently if it was required to carry a large quantity of water, an iron structure would be the most applicable—say 1500 yards in length, with rubble masonry approaches (without survey it is not wise to be more definite); but to supply Sydney and its environs alone, timber structures at both the Nepean River and South Creek would answer every purpose for many years to come, and could be easily supplemented or replaced by enlarged and substantial buildings being erected beside them when required. There is one short cutting required of 60 feet at its greatest depth; the others are minor, and no other work of any magnitude.

It will be seen there is nothing in these works to create any distrust as to their being effectually and economically constructed; nor should there be any great delay in drawing a supply from that source for Sydney alone. If the matter became very urgent, sufficient water could be procured for the city and suburbs by intercepting the heads of South Creek, Rope's Creek, and Eastern Creek, or by pumping from the Nepean, without waiting for the erection of the dam in the Warragamba or the bridge at Nepean—the two heaviest works, and not at any great waste of money, as those works would always come in as a part of the great scheme, the main extra outlay would be the pumping gear, which would be of little service after gravitation was established from the Warragamba.

That portion of the line of aqueduct I proposed to Government in 1866—from Prospect to Sydney—has been adopted by the Commission, consequently ratified by them, although laid out in a very different manner to what I would adopt; therefore I need not go over it, as its practicability is unquestioned, but I may mention that I think those gentlemen should have acknowledged their plagiarism.

Now, I have before me undeniable testimony for every statement I have here made, which can be produced at any time. The extent and contour of the river gorge has been accurately determined by trigonometrical measurement, and the elevations of the country from Warragamba to Rope's Creek (14 miles), were measured by Mr. Wyndham, an intelligent Government surveyor, under the direction of the Surveyor-General, at the request of the Water Commission, the correctness of which I myself superintended. That from Rope's Creek to Prospect (5 miles), is part of the line I measured in 1847 for railway purposes, the truth of which has been proved by the Commission having applied the test of the levels of the Western Rail way to it—all of which were under examination in the Water Commission. Nevertheless, the other members have drawn the very opposite conclusions from myself as to the practicability and utility of the scheme, and refused inquiry in consequence. This will appear very strange to professional men, who know that such surveys found data that cannot be contested. It is for me who stand a single minority to show the proof of the conclusions I have arrived at, which are so directly opposed to those of the other members of the Commission, and afford them an opportunity for refutation.

The first misstatement in the report is that the bed of the Warragamba, at its junction with the Nepean, is only 41 feet above sea level, when the trial surveys show it is 884 feet.

2nd. That there is not sufficient fall in the country from Mulgoa to Sydney to serve the latter with water by gravitation, when the surveys show that Mulgoa is 1164 feet above Crown-street Reservoir, averaging 3½ feet per mile.

3rd. That a dam 170 feet high would not be sufficient to raise the water into Mulgoa. Mr. Grundy estimates it would require 255 feet; Mr. Moriarty calculates 265 feet, then Mr. Wyndham's survey shows that the bed of the Warragamba is only 164 feet below Mulgoa, to which add six feet head water—170 feet.

4th. Mr. Moriarty states that, under any circumstances, it would require an aqueduct of 18 miles in length and 130 feet in height to convey the water from Mulgoa to Prospect; in consequence of the conduit having to cross South Creek, Rope's Creek, and Eastern Creek, when the whole distance from the Warragamba to Prospect is under 19 miles, with a gradual descent all the way, and Mr. Wyndham's survey shows that an aqueduct of, at most, 1500 yards in length, and only 60 feet in height above the bed of South Creek, lessening towards each extreme, will answer every purpose.

5th. That the line of country I proposed would not command Sydney by gravitation, although it was afterwards adopted by the Commission, and is represented and recommended in their report as capable of supplying Crown-street Reservoir.

The following is a synopsis of the elevations taken from the above-mentioned surveys:—

Crown-street reservoir ...	136 feet	above the level of the sea
Rise in the land to Petersham	14 "	"
Height of Petersham ...	150 "	"
Rise to Prospect... ...	40 "	"
Height of Prospect ...	190 "	"
Rise to Rope's Creek ...	15 "	"
Height of Rope's Creek ...	205 "	"
Rise to floor of tunnel at Mulgoa	47½ "	"
Height of floor of tunnel at Mulgoa	252½ "	"
Depth of gorge, or bed of the Warragamba, below floor of tunnel, at Mulgoa ...	164 "	"
Height of the bed of Warragamba, at its junction with Nepean River	88½ "	"

This synopsis, taken from surveys that are beyond doubt, proves that the foregoing statements, which are made in the Water Commissioners' report, are totally incorrect.

It shows that the bed of the Warragamba is 88½ feet above sea level, instead of 41, as represented.

The Mulgoa is 116 feet above Crown-street Reservoir; consequently, that there is ample fall to bring the water down from thence to Sydney by gravitation.

That there is a gradual descent in the surface of the land from Mulgoa to Sydney, therefore it will not be necessary to convey the water through the air 130 feet above that surface for 18 miles, as represented by Mr. Moriarty.

That a dam in the Warragamba of 170 feet in height will secure a depth of six feet head of water over a reservoir 14 to 15 miles in length: consequently, it is not necessary to raise it 95 feet higher, as Mr. Moriarty asserts.

Those mistaken assertions, coupled with at evident disinclination to entertain the subject, made me retire from the Commission with the intention of waiting for a better opportunity to bring the matter forward, which now appears to have arrived. I have no interest in the matter but the public good, nor any desire for notoriety, and no utility would have arisen from my pressing the subject further at that time.

I have estimated for six feet head of water in the Warragamba Reservoir, but there is no reason against 20 head being impounded, if desired, with perfect safety. Six feet in depth over such a space would contain a vast amount of water, sufficient for the requirements of Sydney for many years. Nevertheless, I would recommend an increase to meet future wants; but there has been so much fuss made against the height of this dam that I have kept the figures as low as possible, without interfering with the utility of the scheme. As I have stated, supplementary dams can always be erected in the adjoining rivers; and to those who still doubt the security of such a work, it may seem more advisable to construct other smaller works than to increase the magnitude of this.

As to the third query, What would the cost of such works be? I will not attempt to guess. The proper way to arrive at that is to have a complete survey made, to obtain correct data from which to start computations. No true reasoner will work on an imaginary basis, for if he does he can never be sure of his results, and what man of sense would embark in a large speculation on an imaginary estimate? The question has frequently been put to me, when my reply has invariably been, What would an architect say if you asked him for an estimate of the cost of a house you proposed to build without giving him the dimensions nor the number of doors, doors, or windows? You only wanted to know what it would cost. Such is a parallel case to this. I want to know the dimensions of the work that would be required, the quantity of earth to be removed, the number of bridges, culverts, &c., &c., and their size; that would be necessary before I could satisfactorily go into any calculation of cost. A trial survey is made solely to ascertain the practicability of a scheme, and that is all we have in this instance; if that is approved of, it must be amended, and again amended, until the very best line of country is discovered, on which the works would be planned, measured, and estimated with certainty. There are men that do not hesitate to flash off an estimate at sight, but I am not one of them; and I think it will be observed that the country generally pays double the amount of the first estimate before a work is completed.

The fourth query,—What return may reasonably be expected from the capital invested?

This hinges on the preceding. We have not got the principal element in the calculation, the amount of capital that would be necessary, but can foresee that every gallon of water that can be supplied for irrigation, town use, or manufactures, would be of money value; and that when the work was completed, even in part, the yearly expenditure in working it would be very small; little more than superintendence; a good estimate may be made from the present and increasing consumption in Sydney. My impression is, if the scheme was carried out with skill and good judgment, it would be a source of considerable revenue, as all such schemes are in Europe, without touching upon its utility in affording health, pleasure, and comfort to the inhabitants.

There, there are the indirect benefits, which are incalculable—the relief to the Hawkesbury Flats, and general improvement of Cumberland, and to the whole country, by introducing a general system of irrigation; for, I believe, this would be only the first step towards that great result, for there are many other parts equally capable of such improvement that, were this accomplished, would no doubt be undertaken.

This paper is not intended to draw any comparison between the Warragamba and Upper Nepean schemes. Nor am I called upon to do so. It is enough for me to show the practicability of the former, and to substantiate the statements I made in its favour long before the Water Commission was appointed, which have been so violently attacked; but I may mention that I believe the recommendations in favour of the latter are equally delusive, as I have shown the objections raised to the former are. If I am wrong in what I assert, no doubt my words will soon be refuted; but I think I can prove the position, and have great faith in truth and honesty of purpose, notwithstanding this scheme appears at present to be entirely ignored.

Mr. JOHN YOUNG, after referring to the necessity for an increased water supply to Sydney and the suburbs, said he thought that Mr. Woore's ideas were good. Mr. Woore deserved the thanks of the community for the great care and attention which he had given to the question. With regard to the proposed dam, he had no doubt that it could be constructed; although he had not seen the place. It would only be a question of cost. His own idea of constructing a dam was that there should be two walls of stone, at least 15 or 20 feet apart, and that the lower wall should be well buttressed, and between the walls should be built up a clay puddle. There was one weak point in regard to the scheme proposed by Mr. Woore, and the same weakness was observable in the scheme proposed by the Water Commission—that was the open culverts. It appeared to him that in the majority of cases they would have to go round the spurs of hills. That would necessitate the use of a water pipe for a conduit, or a puddled conduit; and that would prove very expensive. There was another weak point in both schemes. It was proposed to form an intercepting reservoir at Prospect. Its elevation would not be sufficient to supply the whole of the city and the suburbs, the scheme would have to be partly gravitation and partly pumping. He knew the water could be brought from its source by pipes, without an intercepting reservoir; but the pressure would be so great, that the pipes would be liable to burst. The pipes through which water was brought to Melbourne from the Yan Yean, frequently burst; and an intercepting or distributing reservoir had to be constructed. If that could be done here, a gravitation scheme would be right. But he did not know any place himself—and he presumed the Commissioners did not find a place, as they had said nothing about it in their report—of sufficient elevation that would be suitable for an intercepting reservoir, from which the whole of the city and suburbs could be supplied.

Dr. GARRAN asked what was the width of the Warragamba River, at the point where it was proposed to intercept the water, and the length and breadth of the proposed reservoir?

Mr. WOORE said he had all the information respecting the width of the river, &c., but he had not got it with him, and he could not trust his memory.

Mr. NEALE thought the community was much indebted to Mr. Woore. He thought it would have been well if Mr. Woore had been able to give the information asked by Dr. Garran with regard to the width of the Warragamba gorge. He (Mr. Neale) had taken a great deal of interest in the question of the water-supply to Sydney, and it was at his instance that the Commission was appointed. Before the Commission completed their labours, he was in favour of the Warragamba scheme. But he must say that, after perusing the statements of the Water Commission on Mr. Woore's project, he believed that the cost would be so excessive it would be almost impossible to carry it out at the present time. He should be glad if it were otherwise, for he had no doubt that there was a far larger quantity of water in the Warragamba than would be required by Sydney for many years to come. As regarded the remark of Mr. Young, that either scheme would have to be partly pumping and partly gravitation, that was correct. Such places as Balmain, Paddington, Newtown, and the highest portions of Sydney would have to be supplied by pumping; but it was a very limited area indeed. He trusted that the holding of the present meeting would stir the citizens up to the importance of the question, and teach them the necessity for looking for a more adequate supply than could be obtained at present. He concluded by moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Woore for his interesting paper.

Dr. GARRAN seconded the motion, and in doing so pointed out that it was impossible to carry out a scheme of supplying the whole of Sydney and some of the suburbs by gravitation except at enormous expense, as there was no eligible site for an intercepting reservoir. The only place he knew of that was of sufficient elevation for a reservoir to supply Sydney by gravitation was on the south side of Port Hacking.

The MAYOR said that a better supply of water was wanted, but he thought it ought to be a national affair. He could not see that the Corporation, with its small income, should rush into an enormous expenditure in order that the suburbs, as well as the city, might be supplied. The City Council had done the best it could with the means at its disposal. The aldermen were quite as anxious to adopt a new system as any other members of the community. But he thought it was for the Legislature to take up the question, and unless it did take it up the city and suburbs would have to put up with a limited supply of water.

The motion was agreed to, and the meeting terminated.

FROM SYDNEY TO HILL END.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.]

HAVING completed my Northern tour, my attention was naturally directed to the Southern and Western; taking my course in that direction, curiosity directed my steps to the famed Hill End. I write "curiosity," being well aware that no report of mine could post the interested public up in news one whit more than the weekly details furnished by various journals, of the doings and progress there. Any items I do furnish, therefore, from this well-known reefing district must not be looked upon in any other light than the impressions of a visitor on his first acquaintance with an interesting locality. I consider it at all times right to prepare my jottings in this way, when time will not allow me to make a thorough investigation or survey of a district. First impressions are so often erroneous, so often mixed up with hearsay, that not only the writer but the reader may be misled, both perhaps with the best intentions.

It is unnecessary to enter into details of the journey by rail, but little can interest a traveller by a night train unless the name of the stations he passes, and his anxiety to procure a few hours' sleep during the trip,—a refresher that I fear but few ever succeed in obtaining, try hard as they will.

I really believe an interesting article could be written on the difficulties experienced by sleepers, or would-be sleepers in railway carriages. So many little things crop out to rouse the dozey one—there's the "tickets gentlemen" from the guard, the gentlemen that will smoke, and the gentlemen that will talk fortissimo, not to mention the whistlings of the locomotive, and the various stoppages. Look at it in any light eight hours in a carriage, no matter how comfortable, seems, at night particularly, a long time, and but few I imagine feel sorry when the journey is at an end.

The ten or twelve miles of road from the Plains to Bathurst is taken by coach. The morning of my trip Cobb's coach was the only one on the road, and was well filled by passengers and luggage. The road from the Plains to Bathurst is a shocking bad one, particularly after rain; to get along at anything like a place is impossible, therefore the trip often takes three hours. Jolting and bumping after the ride by rail is any thing but pleasant, and when landed safely in the Western City the passenger generally experiences a feeling of relief.

It is not my intention to enter into a description of a place so well known as Bathurst; in justice, however, I must pay a high compliment to its fine buildings and streets. It possesses several fine churches, a good school of arts, and an extensive market building recently erected. Its business establishments impress the visitor with an idea of the magnitude of its trade, which must be more than extensive. The greatest drawback to the place is the presence of the four walls of the gaol, right in the heart of it, on one of the best sites.

The gaol is really an eyesore in Bathurst, and one not easily removed. Its erection on the spot it occupies cannot be regarded as a want of judgment, for at the time of its erection the town was but a small one; now, however, the best of the buildings are crowded around it, and the best must be made of what is considered an unfortunate oversight.

Cobb's coaches start from Bathurst to Hill End daily; the hour selected is 5 a.m.; rather an early one; still, none too early when the object is to traverse the sixty miles or so of notorious bad road between the two places in daylight. I was well prepared for the worst, still I could in fancy but form a weak idea of what the road really is after a few days' rain. No wonder capsizes and late delivery of mails are frequent, and to fine a coach proprietor for late delivery on such a road is simply absurd. When the best of horses, driven by good drivers can only manage sixty miles in twelve hours when the road is in a good state, or at its best, what can be expected when that road is in a puddle or sticky state?

Thirty miles from Bathurst the Turon River is reached, and the town of Sofala. The mention of the Turon will doubtless bring up old reminiscences to many—its first rush, the quantities of gold it yielded, and the adventures met with. A score and more years have passed since its first opening, still the banks of the Turon and a few of its bars are gold-producing. The hydraulic is brought to bear upon its banks with payable results, and many Europeans and a host of Chinamen make a living still out of the old Turon. The town of Sofala, from its peculiar situation between hills, is not seen to advantage until the traveller is right into it. So steep is the hill the coach descends down to the township, that the passenger catches no glimpse of the buildings until within a few yards.

Sofala is, to all appearance, a stirring little place, with a fair display of fair buildings, and not a bad share of trade. My stay was very brief in the town (simply time enough for dinner); therefore, I cannot give much idea of the township, which fact I much regret. On the road, the diggings known as Wattle Flat is passed, where reefing operations are in progress close to the road. I did not think it advisable to make a stay there for the purposes of inspection, as I am aware that very good accounts have been published of the doings and probabilities of the place; therefore, it might be from me considered merely a repetition if I essayed an inspection of the claims.

Away from Sofala, where horses and coaches are changed, the Turon is crossed, and the hills around the town are to be mounted. An idea of the nature of the country will be formed when the distance of the coach road is taken into consideration, compared with the actual distance in a straight line between Bathurst and Hill End.

The road is over sixty miles, the distance, as the crow flies, about thirty. From this it will be imagined what roundabouts the road takes; but, to form a notion of the hills and the state of the road a trip to Hill End would be necessary. Improvements are in progress, however, and in a few months the road will be much improved, as parties are busily engaged at present in cutting and metalling the worst parts; it will, indeed, be a great boon to the inhabitants of Hill End and Tambaroora when the road is rendered a good one.

Of all the hills perhaps the stiffest is the one known as the "Monkey," half-way between Sofala and Hill End. "Walk, gentlemen, please," is the polite request of the driver when its foot is reached, and a nice brother it is to negotiate. From the top of the hill the road is, as a rule, more muddy and less hilly. As from this point to Hill End more of a tableland has to be crossed, in due time it is, and the buildings and lights of the famed reefing town heave in sight.

"Sweet Mudland," one is tempted to exclaim, as the street known as Clark-street is splashed through. I know much has been written about this particular street, and, no doubt, a deal more has been said. I know travellers are, as a rule, inclined a little to exaggeration, but, in justice to that class, permit me to pay a passing compliment. As regards the mud in Clark-street, I never have heard an exaggeration. No, to Clark-street I will give the palm for mud and the ill manner it is laid out. It possesses three remarkable features, being "narrow," crooked, and filthy. This last was my impression at night, in the morning I had a better opportunity for inspection.

"Hill End" from its position might have more aptly been named "Hill Top," as in reality it is not at the end but at the top of Hawkins Hill, the spot where the celebrated rich claims are situated. The township is on, or close to, the summit of the hill; for half a mile two lines of streets run thickly built on, too closely for health sake. Tambaroora-street is the upper one where the churches and a few business places have been erected. Clark-street is the principal business street in the town, and through it the most traffic takes place. The major portion of the buildings are of a temporary nature, but several substantial brick edifices have been erected, and several are in course of erection. Clark-street, as I have before stated, is muddy, the houses on each side are packed close, therefore the centre of the street which has a gentle slope to the hill is made the drain. A chain of muddy lagoons extend from end to end, and the pedestrian often feels sorely puzzled to find a crossing-place at any part of it. At night time it is peculiarly perplexing, and taking a view from the balcony of one of the hotels, the spectator would imagine so many "will of the wisps" were flitting throughout the streets as the inhabitants with lanterns trudge through from point to point. A new arrival is apt for the first day or so to respect the polish of his boots, and take a few circuits to reach particular points, but the feeling soon wears off, and in a short time he takes the puddles as a matter of course, never heeding the appearance of his extremities.

One can find interesting studies even in mud; the photographic artists have; and I was favoured by two cartes by the local artists, the A. A. Company and Mr. Pike, giving two scenes in Clark-street; they are studies in their way. One represents a horse being pulled out of a mudhole, the other a dray bogged. These little episodes occurred a few days before my arrival; but they fade in comparison with one I saw last Sunday. A drunken man had by some means floundered into one of the favourite spots, fell, and was completely covered in the puddle. The spectators, of course, had to pull him out—not an easy matter. After three ineffectual attempts with a long slab, at length the unfortunate one was rescued from his muddy position, and presented the appearance of a model enveloped by a clayey mould for casting purposes The model was removed to the lock-up, stripped, and a blanket supplied him by some obliging constable. Sights like this, I was informed, are frequent. The wonder is how poor foolish inebriates escape being smothered, for many drunken ones can be seen staggering about the street at nightfall.

Hill End, from the statements of the inhabitants, is not the place it was three months back. Money is not so plentiful or business so brisk. From my observations, I should fancy that it is still a stirring place, but with rather too many business places for its requirements. All trades are represented in the town, and there are many places for amusement. Shooting and bowling alleys abound. From the popping of the rifles heard after nightfall, one would imagine himself in the midst of warfare; but much is not the fact, as the firing is at targets, at so much per shot—and a fine profitable business is it to the gallery-keeper. The banking interest is well represented by three branches—the Joint Stock, Bank of New South Wales, and Commercial. Not much can be said in praise of their office accommodation. The same remark might well be applied to the telegraph and post offices, as both occupy poor dingy buildings.

The churches and Public school are the most praiseworthy structures in the town. One church, the Presbyterian, recently erected, is a fine little building. The Public school is situate in Tambaroora-street; it was a wooden building with teacher's cottage attached; lately two large rooms of brick have been added. The additions were badly required, as the attendance is large—the average at present being 209 children. Mr. Thomas Yates is the master, with four assistants. The three schoolrooms are well furnished, and the carpenters were busily employed at the time of my visit, completing the desks and interior arrangements.

The Presbyterian church is a pretty stone structure, designed by Mr. Rowe; it was erected in six months by the contractors, Bully and Co., at a cost of £1300. The interior is particularly neat, the principals are of stained Baltic deal, the roof is lined with cedar and pine varnished, giving a pretty effect. No clergyman is as yet appointed; the Rev. Mr. M'Kinnon is applied for. The church is almost clear of debt, only £200 remains to be collected.

The church of England is a wooden building; a stone one is in course of construction; the foundations are already in. The new building is to be a rubble stone one with cut freestone windows, buttresses, and caps; the amount of the contract is £2200.

The Roman Catholic school, where services are held, is situated N.E. of the town on the hill, a fine site. The school has an average attendance of 100 children. The building is of brick one.

The Wesleyan Church is a neat building, of rubble stone, situate in Tambaroora-street, with a commodious residence attached, where the Rev. W. Brown resides.

The police quarters and lockup are only temporary structures. While on this subject I might suggest the immediate erection of suitable buildings, as they are badly required, the district is not free from crime. Cases of petty larceny are frequent, and also more serious ones of garotting. Still, taking the population into consideration, the district cannot be regarded as one noticeable for crime, when it is taken into consideration that nearly 5000 people reside in and close to Hill End, and that bad characters generally find their way to new rushes as a rule.

The want of a court-house is badly felt, also an addition to the magistracy. At present only the police magistrate, Mr. J. W. Lees, and three local J.P.'s are available for the forum.

The water supply question is one that is giving some uneasiness. In the summer water will have to be carted a considerable distance. At present the principal supply is derived from a dam (Pullen's) at the end of the town, where the drainage of the township is bound to find its way. The wish of the inhabitants is to have a temporary reservoir at Fighting Gully, on a piece of land generously given by the philanthropic Miss Beard. This could take the place or fill the gap while a high-level reservoir is excavated on the Ball Hill, which, when completed, would supply the town. The Premier, during his short visit, had those particular wants pointed out to him, and sensibly promised his attention. The water supply should be the first matter to receive attention.

The want of precaution in mining is evident from the number of mining accidents which have occurred lately in the claims working at a depth. Even as I write a melancholy proof of this is before me, as the funeral of the miner, William Toll, passes. This unfortunate man was injured a fortnight since by the explosion of a blast while two miners were tamping with an iron bar in the Great Extended Company's claim. One man, William M'Donnell, was instantly killed by the bar passing through his head. The other, William Toll, with his two arms shattered, crawled to the shaft from the drive, a distance of 20 feet, and, with his teeth, pulled the signal-line The dead body and the living one were raised to the surface, and all that medical skill could do was done by Dr. Carroll for the survivor. One arm was amputated but from the injuries received to one side it was all along feared that the man could not live. Dr. Machattie, of Bathurst, was summoned for consultation with Dr. Carroll, and it was decided to remove the other arm, also the toes of the right foot. This was done, but spite of all attention the man gradually sank, and twelve days after the accident passed away peacefully. The man must have possessed rare courage, and it was only that kept him alive for a single day. It was only when the second arm was taken from him that he gave way, and as the poor fellow said to the doctor "wished to die." This sad tale points its own moral, the want of legal interference in mining management, or such accidents are bound to be of frequent occurrence.

It is my intention in my next article to give a brief account of the crushing machinery, and various plants around Hill End, then I will devote a short one to some of the claims, "rich and poor." On that subject it is not my intention to go into detail, but simply give my impression of the probabilities of the district; however brief, it may prove of interest to a few interested in the district.

I will conclude this rather lengthy article by the notice of the christening of Swiss and Co.'s machine on the Lower Turon, which I was present at. The machine has been erected on the right or west bank of the Turon, to supply the want much felt by claims surrounding, as the packing expenses to the machines on Hawkins Hill prevented many claims from crushing stone considered payable.

A good Cornish fine boiler has been set in brick, with a brick stack. The boiler is by Russell and Co., of Sydney. The engine is an imported one, capable of being worked, from 5 to 40 horse power, by expansion gear, which saves steam waste. At present only two batteries are up of 5 stamps, each 6½ cwt., by Mort and Co. Two copper tables, one 2, the other 4 feet, receive from the gratings into three ripples, with guards from the ripples or wells; it falls on to two blanket tables, one of 9, the other 11 feet; then into a Chilian mill, from whence it passes and becomes what is termed tailings.

The machine works very smoothly, and its erection reflects credit on the youthful engineer, Mr. M'Dougall, under whose supervision it was erected. The pumping gear, amalgamating barrel for blanketings, &c., are all complete, and the entire plant is in first-class working order.

On last Thursday the engine shed was the scene of the christening, and a goodly company assembled to witness the smashing of the champagne bottle over the fly-wheel, which was most gracefully performed by Mrs. Wythes, who named the plant "Lewis and Co.'s Providence."

The party adjourned to Mr. Yeo's Hotel, close to the river, where a banquet to celebrate the event was partaken of by twenty-four guests. Several toasts were proposed and drunk with customary honours, and the success of Lewis and Co.'s plant heartily wished and hoped for by all present. The proprietors of the "Providence" deserve special commendation for putting the first crushing machine on the Lower Turon.

THE IMPOUNDING ACT.—The Western Post says—The peculiar hardship that is attached to some people by the present law of compelling the poundkeeper to send notice to the residents beyond ten miles of the pound by means of a registered letter, should their cattle be impounded, has been exemplified lately. To make matters plain, we will quote the Act which reads thus—"When any cattle, &c., the poundkeeper shall within twenty-four hours thereafter, send a notice to the owner, if known and residing within ten miles of the pound, and if residing at a greater distance, then by a registered letter through the general post, send notice to certain," &c. The hardship is this, suppose A's cattle are impounded, and A live beyond ten miles of pound, the poundkeeper is by law bound to send A notice by means of a registered letter. Now presuming A's correspondence is not very voluminous, and he is not in the habit of sending in regularly for the post; then A's registered letter lies in the post-office until by some means he is informed of the fact, and perhaps, meanwhile, the animals impounded are sold for a mere song. Were the usual practice adopted with these registered pound notices, the same as is now the practice with the ordinary letters, then this difficulty would be solved; for A would get his pound notice in the same way as he gets his correspondence (if any) but as long as the registered letters are compelled by law to be sent, and there being no letter carriers outside the boundaries of the town, so long will a very unjust regulation exist, one that can be easily remedied; for it would be simple enough to allow a poundkeeper to make use of a special stamp, besides registering, and then allowing the notices to be forwarded in the usual way as letters are.

APPOINTMENTS TO THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—I noticed in your article of the 2nd instant, on the subject of nominations to the Legislative Council, that after quoting from two past Secretaries of State for the Colonies, the Duke of Newcastle and Lord Granville, and also from two past Governors of our colony, Sir John Young (now Lord Lisgar) and Lord Belmore, you arrive at the conclusion following:—

"Apart, therefore, from further confidential despatches, every Governor will see that his instructions are virtually* not to swamp the Council except in a case of extreme urgency, and not to consent to new appointments for the purposes of political partizanship. Any important reconstruction of the Upper Chamber therefore, while it remains a nominated one, can only happen by the voluntary resignation of several members, or by their gradual disappearance from the scene of action."

This seems to be put forward as something new and important. I however am not aware that more has ever been claimed by any person in this country!

You treat the publication of the correspondence on the subject as a parliamentary paper, having more historical than present interest; I think you are mistaken. The reason that induced me to move for the production and printing of the papers arose from the fact that Mr. Parkes had in the Assembly stated substantially (for I do not profess to follow his exact words), as justifying his endeavouring to sweep away the present Legislative Council, and substituting for it an elective Council, that the present Government although "having the Assembly and the country at their backs," (?) were powerless with regard to an important and urgently required measure—the Border Duties Bill; that they could do nothing with the Legislative Council—that others had nominated all, or nearly all, the members there, and that a limit as to number of councillors had been fixed, beyond which number the Secretary of State for the Colonies would not permit the Governor to extend the Council, and that a dead lock had thus arrived. In doing so, Mr. Parkes blamed various Governments, in all of which either Sir James Martin or myself had been; I ventured to suggest that Mr. Parkes was mistaken, that no such limit as to the number of members of the Legislative Council had been fixed, and that so far from the Secretary of State for the Colonies having done so unconstitutional a thing as to have instructed the Governor not to increase the Council, even should such become absolutely necessary for the purpose of carrying an imperative necessary measure, the despatch of Lord Granville, of the 2nd October, 1869 (the last despatch that I know of on that branch of the subject) took an entirely different view of the matter. While ridiculing the idea of the passing of the Borders Duties Bill being a question of sufficient magnitude to warrant such an extreme course as inducing the Legislative Council to carry it, I called Mr. Parkes's attention to the fact that the battle of the right to increase the number of the Legislative Council in extreme cases had been fought and won, as he might easily find by reference to a correspondence of some four years back between her Majesty's Government in England and the Government of this colony; and that if he really thought the Border Duties Bill was one of such great importance as he claimed for it, he would find there that a shorter and less destructive course was open to him than sweeping away the present Council altogether. He could advise an increase of members, unless, indeed, he knew that he was talking "bunkum" as to the importance of the question, and that he knew also that it would be dangerous to his Ministry to advise the Government to such a course, to obtain the carrying of a doubtful piece of legislation (even from the most favourable point of view) as the Border Duties Bill.

Mr. Parkes appeared to me to deny that such a correspondence existed, or that if it existed that it could bear the interpretation I put upon it. I then moved for and obtained its publication, partly because I knew that Mr. Parkes was in error in making that statement, and partly because he in the same speech informed the Parliament, that the Government had determined to abolish the present Legislative Council, for the fallacious reason, that the power given by the Constitution Act, to the Governor and Executive Council to increase the number of the Legislative Council, had been practically removed by the Secretary for the Colonies.

I venture to submit that an erroneous statement, which could not but amount to a charge, that the Constitutional action of the Governor and Executive Council of the colony had been unduly interfered with by the Secretary for the Colonies, was under the circumstances of immediate practical importance. It was of importance to inform the country of the facts of the case, and it was of importance for the purposes of debate, when the threatened bill of Mr. Parkes for the abolition of the present Legislative Council is introduced.

It will be seen by the correspondence, that in May, 1868, the then Governor referred to me a despatch of the Secretary of State for the Colonies (Lord Granville), in which despatch his lordship took up what appeared to my colleagues and myself objectionable ground, with regard to certain appointments to the Legislative Council of this colony, made by our predecessors in office. It then seemed to be convenient and desirable that the general question of appointment making to the Legislative Council should be discussed between the Government of this colony and the Government of England. The despatch to which we took exception referred to the action of other gentlemen, and not to any action of ours, and besides we had no desire to make new appointments. We, in taking exception to the despatch, had no grievance of our own to complain of, and were therefore in a peculiarly favourable position to remonstrate against what appeared to be an undue interference on the part of the Secretary of State for the Colonies with the Government of this colony, and I undertook to prepare the paper on this subject, which being done was afterwards adopted by my colleagues, and forwarded through Lord Belmore to the Government in England.

Now let us see whether there is any real difference with regard to increasing the number of the Legislative Council, to carry into law legislation of great importance under extreme cases, between what I claimed on behalf of the Governor and Executive Council of this colony, in my memorandum to Lord Belmore before alluded to, and what Lord Granville wrote in reply. I maintain that on this, by far the most important portion of the correspondence, Lord Granville's views conveyed in his despatch of October, 1869, were substantially in accord with those submitted by me through the Governor to his lordship, and to which his lordship's said despatch was in acknowledgment. I wrote—

"Memorandum.—Your Excellency's memorandum accompanying the despatch of the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, dated 18th December, 1868, No. 2 (M. 2190 B), is marked 'private'; and all that your Excellency therein appears to desire at my hands is, my concurrence in an assurance to Lord Granville, that the addition made by the late Ministry to the number of the Legislative Council, as then existing, was not in fact politically material as altering the balance in any important degree in favour of the Ministry by whom it was suggested to your Excellency; and that I would, I beg to say, be most glad to concur in such assurance and make no further comment, did I not conceive that the despatch was based on a misapprehension which it is very important to the true interests of this colony that I should endeavour to remove.

"I presume, from the tenor of his Lordship's despatch, that he is under the impression that a maximum number of the Legislative Council has been defined or implied; and that the Responsible Ministers of your Excellency may not in their discretion advise your Excellency to exceed it. If such be his Lordship's meaning, I am compelled, with all deference to so high an authority, to say that this cannot be admitted by the members of the present Administration of this colony.

"The 2nd section of the Act 17 Victoria, No. 41, enacts that it shall be lawful for her Majesty, by an Instrument under the Sign Manual, to authorize the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, in her Majesty's name, by an Instrument or Instruments under the Great Seal, to summon to the said Legislative Council of the colony such persons, not being fewer than twenty-one, as the Governor and Executive Council shall think fit.

"In the third paragraph of your Excellency's instructions, to which I trust that I may be permitted to refer, attention is particularly drawn to the terms above quoted; and the paragraph ends with the following words,—but without any intimation, implied or expressed, of a limit to the number of members to be appointed by your Excellency with the advice of the Executive Council:—'We do therefore by these our Instructions authorize you from time to time to summon to the said Legislative Council such persons as you and our said Executive Council shall think fit.'

"It is thus, I submit to your Excellency, abundantly clear that the law fixes no limit to the number of the Legislative Council of the colony, and that the determination beyond the legal minimum of twenty-one rests in your Excellency with the advice of your Ministers. There is no warrant in law for a contrary conclusion, and it follows therefore that it is to be hardly imagined that the Secretary of State for the Colonies would, unless under some misapprehension, have used the terms 'increase the number of the Legislative Council,' or expressed a regret that an addition had been made, or that it was likely to be used as a precedent for further additions. The fact is that additions have been made from time to time and no question has ever been raised as to the legality of such additions, or of the right of Ministers in their discretion to advise them. I think, therefore, that the Right Honourable the Secretary for the Colonies will scarcely deem it proper for him so to question or comment on the advice offered, or that may be offered by the constitutional Ministers of her Majesty's Representative in a British colony having a representative Assembly and Responsible Government, as to practically have the effect of nullifying without law in a material respect a most important constitutional principle, such as the right of extension of the Legislative Council. His Lordship will no doubt remember that even British Parliamentary legislation 'on any subject of exclusively internal concern' in any such colony, has been pronounced, as a general rule, unconstitutional, and only to be exercised in extreme cases in which necessity at once creates and justifies the exception. Parliamentary Paper, 1853, No. 116, page 7:—May's Constitutional History of England, volume 2, folio 371.

"In the colonial debates during the passage of the Constitution Act (see Sydney Morning Herald, December 22, 1853—an extract is enclosed), Mr. Wentworth, who is the author of that Act, substantially advocated a nominee Upper House because of its flexible and expansive character, and he saw therein the safety of the Constitution. His remarkable words were, that an Elective Upper House would lead to a revolution; that it would control the Lower House, and trample on the rights of the people.

"The recent "deadlock" in the neighbouring colony of Victoria has shown some of the difficulties of a fixed number. With such a principle established, and with members like ours, holding their seats for life, our difficulties would not only be equal to those of Victoria with members chosen under the elective principle and for a short term of years, but would be likely some time or other to overwhelm the colony with anarchy and bloodshed. Mr. Wentworth was in favour of a nominee Upper House, which, he asserted, would give way rather than excite a revolution,—and also because he felt assured that the Responsible Minister of the day would compel it to give way in such an exigency.

"I may perhaps, in this view of the Constitution Act under which this colony is governed, urge the right of any Ministry having what they believe a great national measure to carry through the Legislative Council, to see in its importance, if obstructed therein, a reason to advise the Governor for the time being to summon such a number of additional members as may secure the safety of the measure. His Excellency of course would possess as perfect a right to refuse to act upon such advice and to call other advisers to his aid. Whether or not it would be proper in a Minister to advise so extreme a course, or in a Governor to refuse compliance therewith, would, I take it, depend on the justice and importance of the measure involved.—on the amount and length of continuance of the obstruction of the nominated Legislative Council, on the proportionate number and importance of the majority of the colonists demanding it, and on the depth and fervour of their determination in doing so. In other words, the wisdom of the course could only be determined by the effect which compliance or refusal would have on the prosperity of the colony and the welfare and happiness of its people.

"I desire therefore, to convey to your Lordship, not only from myself but from my colleagues in the Government, that we would consider any action of ours, having a tendency, however remotely, to lim

SHIPS' MAILS.

Mails will close at the General Post Office as follows:—

FOR AUCKLAND.—By the Derwent, this day, at noon.

FOR MELBOURNE.—By the Macedon (s.), on Friday, at 11 a.m.

FOR BRISBANE.—By the City of Brisbane (s.), Friday, at 4 p.m.

CUSTOM HOUSE.—Entered Outwards, September 11: Schiehallion, barque, 602 tons, Captain Lavack, for London; Borealis, ship, 920 tons, Captain Beard, for Shanghai; Prince of Wales, cutter, 23 tons, Captain Sainty, for S. S. Islands; Sarah Pile, schooner, 115 tons, Captain Skinner, for Fiji.

The Hallowe'en, from London, was berthed at the Circular Quay yesterday, and will commence discharging forthwith.

The City of Brisbane (s.) left Brisbane at noon on the 9th instant; passed Smoky Cape at 6.35 p.m. on the 10th, and arrived alongside the Company's Wharf, Sydney, at 2.30 p.m. on the 11th. Experienced S.E. to N.E. winds to Port Stephens, from thence westerly. Passed the Wonga Wonga (s.) off Moreton Island, at 5.10 p.m. on the 9th, and the Queensland (s.), at 7 a.m. on the 11th.

The Boomerang (s.), left yesterday for Bowen and Cleveland Bay.

The Aberdeen clipper John Duthie has completed discharging her inward London cargo, with the exception of some iron pipes which cannot be removed until sufficient coals are taken on board to stiffen the ship, and it is satisfactory to know that not a single stained or ullage package has passed over the side. The John Duthie will load for San Francisco, and her spacious saloon accommodation is worthy the attention of passengers bound to California.

The Diamantina (s.) left the Macleay at 11 a.m. on the 8th instant, anchored in Trial Bay till 4 a.m. on the 9th, arrived in Port Macquarie at 11 a.m. on the same day, left again at 1 p.m. on the 10th, and arrived in Sydney at 3.45 p.m. on the 11th. Experienced moderate northerly winds and fine weather throughout the passage. Cargo: 937 bags maize, 45 tons sugar, 127 hides, 2 bags bacon, 19 cases eggs, 11 coops fowls, 2 casks tallow, 3 casks wine, 15 casks sugar-cane, 2 kegs honey, 12 pigs, a quantity of brass, iron, &c., from the wreck of Clarence (s.), and sundries.

The Klama (s.) brings up 60 bags corn, 207 bags bark, 20 bags oysters, 23 bags bacon, 20 cases eggs, 38 hides, 181 loose cheeses, 93 kegs butter, 28 pigs, 16 calves, 2 coops fowls, and sundries.

September 10.—Omeo (s.), Calder, from Melbourne, with about 800 passengers for the diggings.

September 11.—Ballina (s.), from Sydney.

DEPARTURES.

September 10.—Winchester, ship, Arnold, for San Francisco, with 1350 tons coal, 17 tons shale.

September 10.—Mary Frances, barque, Patching, for Melbourne, with 330 tons coal.

September 10.—Platypus (s.), for the Clarence River.

September 10.—Mary Ann, schooner, Stephens, for Bluff Harbour, with 141 tons coal, 1300 fathoms, 2000 spokes, 40 dray poles, 9574 feet hardwood.

September 10.—Medea, barque, Anthony, for Dunedin, with 602 tons coal.

MELBOURNE.

ARRIVALS.

September 5.—Borrowdale, from Liverpool; Corsair, Sarah Ann, from Newcastle; Yeo Yangs (s.), from Sydney; Mary Cummins, from Clarence River.

The ship Hannibal, bound to this port, was signalled by the Borrowdale on July 4, in latitude 27° N., and longitude 22° W. The Borrowdale also spoke the Polonaise, from London, bound to Brisbane, on July 29, in latitude 30° S., and longitude 29·20 W., and again on August 9. The Polonaise signalled "All well," and wished to be reported.—Argus, September 6.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

BUOYS FOR MAKING WARPS, &c., PASS TO IN RIVER YARRA.

Buoys, with ten fathoms of ¾ inch chain attached, have been secured round the upper Red Dolphin, at Raleigh's Bar, and the Black Dolphin, at Fisherman's Bend, for the purpose of affording facilities for navigating the River Yarra.—Argus, September 6.

THE ECLIPSE TIN MINING COMPANY (Limited).

COPE'S CREEK, INVERELL.

Capital, £6600, in 6600 £1 shares; payable, 1s application, 1s allotment, 6d CALLS.

Proprietors reserve 4000 fully paid-up shares and NO CASH.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS:
W. H. Paling, Esq. | Dr. Fydie.
SOLICITOR:
Frederick Curtiss, Esq.
BROKERS:
H. M. Caldwell and Co.

The brokers have much pleasure in placing this valuable land, consisting of sixty acres, before the public, as careful inquiries have been made with MOST SATISFACTORY RESULTS. The ground is now being opened out, and the mining manager reports having obtained "PAYABLE PROSPECTS."

THE SAMPLES ARE WELL WORTHY OF INSPECTION. THE PROPRIETORS RETAIN NO CASH. 6D CALLS WILL BE MADE ONLY WHEN REQUIRED. DIVIDEND PAID EQUALLY ON ALL SHARES.

The following report has been received by the Brokers from the well known authority, Mr. J. H. North:—

"Dear Sirs,—In accordance with your request, I have just paid a visit to your 60 acres stanniferous ground, and now forward you samples of tin ore obtained.

"From the prospects obtained, and the proximity of this ground to well-proved adjoining claims, I believe it will prove rich in tin ore; and from the formation of the creek no heavy expenditure will be required to work this ground efficiently.

"I remain, dear Sirs, yours truly,
"J. H. NORTH."

Further particulars and shares can be obtained on application to
H. M. CALDWELL and Co., 297, George-street.

CITY BANK GOLD MINING PROMOTERS' COMPANY, SOUTH TURON.

Capital £500, in 50 Shares of £10 each.

25 Shares fully paid up, together with £130 cash, reserved for original proprietors; the remaining 25 shares are now offered to the public; £2 10s per share on application, balance on allotment.

Many of the shares being already applied for, this advertisement will not be repeated.

The City Bank is a lease of five acres on the South Turon River, and adjoins the Queen Victoria Company's ground, a crushing from which has lately yield 8 oz. TO THE TON. The mining surveyor's report, which can be seen at the Brokers' Office, states that there are three well defined veins on the ground (Marshall's line of reefs), that gold is freely seen in the stone (see specimens at Office), and that it can be worked very economically. The only piece of ground between the City Bank and the Turon River is the reserve for Nichell's crushing-machine, which will very shortly be erected, and to which the expense of conveying the Company's quartz will be merely nominal. Lewis and Co.'s crushing-machine, which was so successfully started last week, and Berry's machine, are both within 400 yards of the Company's ground, so that there will be none of the usual vexatious delays waiting for erection of machinery.

The veins, which are gold-bearing from the surface, have been opened to a depth of about 8 feet, and a tunnel has been driven into the hill a distance of 32 feet, and already intersects the reef. From the amount of work done and the facilities for further operations, the cash at credit of the Company (£120) will be amply sufficient to raise and crush a considerable parcel of quartz, which is expected to go at least 3 to 4 ounces to the ton; and immediately upon the value of the property being so determined, steps will be taken to reform the Company on a more extensive scale. Application for shares to be made to M'VEY, BAIRD, THOMPSON, and CO.,

OCTAGON TIN MINING COMPANY (Limited), SEVERN RIVER, Queensland.

Amended Capital £10,000, in 5s Shares; 2s 6d on application, 2s 6d on allotment.

THE FOLLOWING TELEGRAM was received yesterday morning from the Company's Brisbane Agents, and may be seen at the Sydney Broker's Office.

FRASER AND BUCKLAND, Brisbane. — W. BARTON, 7, Gresham-street, Sydney.

"Octagon Amended Prospectus.

"Capital ten thousand (£10,000); eight hundred (£800) to proprietors cancelled. First dividend of sixpence (6d) to be paid to contributors alone. Will write."

It will thus be seen that notwithstanding the extensive work done by them, the proprietors forego all claim for cash.

The undersigned is prepared to give every information respecting the investment, and to receive applications for shares, with 2s 6d per share deposit.

N.B.—As there are now on hand five tons of tin ore the property of the Company, the above dividend will be payable ALMOST IMMEDIATELY.

SPECIAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

PROSPECTUS of the MAITLAND GAS-LIGHT COMPANY, (Limited).

Capital £15,500, in 3100 Shares of £5 each,

1400 of which fully paid-up are reserved for the present proprietors, and 1700 are now offered to the public, on the following terms, viz.:—£1 10s per share to be paid on application, and the balance upon allotment.

The List will be closed on the 23rd September, 1872, when all shares will be allotted pro rata, a preference being given to bona fide Maitland applicants and consumers; and not more than 100 shares will be allotted to any one applicant.

The sum so raised will be paid to the proprietors upon completion of the purchase of the property, the proprietors bearing all expenses incurred in floating the company, including the cost of conveying the land to the trustee, and preparation of the deed of settlement.

The proprietors will, on formation of the Company, pay the sum of £500 to the credit of the Company as working capital; and should the Company not be floated, deposits will be returned in full.

The Proprietors undertake to sell none of their 1400 shares until the Company shall have been floated at least twelve months.

TRUSTEE:
Thomas Cadell, Esq., 183, Pitt-street, Sydney.
SOLICITORS:
Messrs. Colquhoun and Colquhoun, West Maitland.
BROKER:
J. Mullens, 131, Pitt-street.

Messrs. J. W. Tuck and H. G. Tuck, the present proprietors of the Maitland Gas Works, have long considered that the establishment of a Maitland Gas-light Company would be highly advantageous; and in consequence of the ill-health and advanced age of Mr. J. W. Tuck, the senior partner, necessitating his retiring from business, the proprietors have now resolved to offer their Gas Manufactory, Plant, &c., &c., to the public.

It will be seen that the proprietors evince their faith in the success of the proposed Company, by reserving to themselves 1400 shares, representing an investment of £7000.

The returns to the present proprietors from the first establishment of their Works have been highly satisfactory, and it cannot be doubted that the formation of a Company (in which the shareholders may most likely be consumers) will not only afford an excellent investment to shareholders, but also under energetic management the operations of the proposed Company may be widely and profitably extended, and gas supplied at a cheaper rate commensurate with such extension.

The present working plant is so complete as to admit of a far larger manufacture and supply of gas than at present consumed, at the extra cost only of the additional coal required.

The operations of the present Proprietors have hitherto been confined to the township of West Maitland, but they may easily be extended to the township of East Maitland; and it may be fairly anticipated that the Borough Councils of West and East Maitland will (following the example of other municipalities) see the necessity for lighting the main streets of those towns with gas, which, if carried out, would alone add to the revenue of the proposed Company.

The works are of the most approved description, are in first-class order, and are referred to in the accompanying report of Mr. J. N. Wark, Engineer of the Australian Gas Light Company, Sydney.

The land and plant to be conveyed to the proposed Company will be vested in Thomas Cadell, Esq., in trust, who will transfer the same to the representatives of the Company when formed. It is intended that three Directors be appointed to manage the affairs of the Company upon its formation; the proprietors, by virtue of the large number of shares they retain, having the right to appoint one director, so long as they together hold 1400 shares in the Company; the other two directors to be chosen by the holders of the remaining 1700 shares.

It is well known that all gas companies in this colony are prosperous, even in towns where the use of gas has only recently been introduced, and the present works being complete, centrally situated, beyond the reach of floods, in operation for many years, there being also an established consumption, now yielding a permanent income, unusual recommendations are offered to consumers and capitalists in the formation of the proposed Company.

Mr. H. G. Tuck, who has had the sole control of the Gas Manufactory for the last ten years, has undertaken to manage the Works of the Company gratuitously, for a term of three months from the date of its formation, if called upon to do so.

A plan of the land can be inspected, and further information obtained, at the office of the Broker, to whom all applications for shares must be addressed, in accordance with the form herewith.

Mr. J. MULLENS, 131, Pitt-street.

REPORT.

"Sydney, August 7, 1872.

"Messrs. T. and A. Cadell.

"Gentlemen,—

"At your request I have inspected the plant, buildings, stock-in-trade, &c., of the Maitland Gas Works, now the property of Messrs. Tuck and Son, and have to report that the Works are complete, and capable of supplying about 30,000 cubic feet per day, and by judicious management considerably over that quantity.

The Works are in every good order; and I also examined the mains and services, and found them in a very good state of preservation.

"In capacity they are sufficient for a much larger supply of gas than is delivered at present.

"My opinion of the prospects of the proposed Company formed of consumers of gas and others interested in the place is, that the undertaking ought, under good and energetic management, to pay very well at a capital, say, of £15,500, £500 being set apart as working capital.

"So large a sum as £500 is not necessary as the works now stand, but it is wise to have a fund in reserve.

"I am, Gentlemen, yours obediently, (Signed) "J. N. WARK,
"Engineer Australian Gas Light Co."

I have examined the ledgers and accounts kept by Messrs. J. W. Tuck and Son, the proprietors of the Maitland Gas Works, and find from them, that their net profits derived from the supply of gas during the twelve months preceding the date of Mr. Wark's inspection of the works, were at the rate of £1382 11s 10d per annum, or about 9 per centum per annum on the capital of the proposed Company.

ALFRED CADELL.

West Maitland, 21st September, 1872.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1872.

THOSE who are convinced that man, whatever be his colour, is his own property, and that to rob him of liberty is the greatest of crimes, look forward to the extinction of slavery as the task and glory of the British nation. The great step towards this work was the dictum of Lord MANSFIELD in the Court of King's Bench that the laws of England did not recognise any man as a slave. It was a long struggle even to obtain this decision. The case argued was that of SUMMERVILLE, a slave brought to England by his master, where there were 7000 persons in the same condition. SUMMERVILLE was left in the streets to perish deserted by his master. Some good Samaritan found him, tended him, and paid for his recovery. His owner then claimed his service, and hence commenced that long law suit which terminated in the glorious doctrine that the moment a slave touches the shores of England the fetters fall from his hands. Then followed the great contest for the abolition of the slave trade, with all its multiplied horrors. WILLIAM PITT immortalised his memory by supporting that measure with all his eloquence and influence. The slave trade in England was then lawful no longer, and was soon treated as piracy. But the slave trade did not cease on this account. It was condemned by America, and more or less honestly resisted; but several nations, among these Spain and Portugal, carried on a gigantic trade. This ultimately was condemned but not abolished, nor is it now. England employed cruisers to watch the coast of Africa, and captured many slave vessels, but probably without very much reducing the trade. Millions were spent in this attempt, and with only the success which always accompanies a righteous work.

The slaves of the West Indies were liberated at a cost of £20,000,000. The slaves of America, forty years after, were set free by a terrible war, at the cost of hundreds of millions. The slave trade therefore died with the system which arose from it, and which could alone continue it; and now America, England, France, and several other nations have declared that no man shall hold another in bondage where their banner waves, and no ship traverse the seas to carry bondsmen under their flag. But the inveterate desire of base men to appropriate the labour of others at any cost is stronger than treaties and penal laws; and it may be seriously doubted whether the total sum of human misery and wrong has not been increased by the attempts at repression. It is unfortunately too true that the trade being now reduced to a gambling speculation in which men pawn their lives and property has delivered it over to the most worthless of mankind, and that so atrocious have been the disclosures on the coast of Africa and in the Pacific, that horrified Europe has resolved by new efforts, and in concert, to make one more grand attempt to put the evil down.

There are two plans to be followed—one to stop the demand for slaves, and the other to stop the supply. The first may be accomplished by treaty, and by influence with the Governments where slavery still exists. The second can only be secured by watching the countries where the slave trade is carried on. The accounts of the state of affairs as recently given by a clergyman who belonged to the unfortunate expedition of Bishop MACKENZIE is an awful disclosure, not indeed new in its incidents. After describing the cruelties of bringing many slaves of tender years six weeks' journey to the coast, which certainly no man could read without horror, he adds, "If I were to tell you what Dr. LIVINGSTONE has described of his late marches in Africa, I could show you that the slave-dealer's

WESLEYAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—A public meeting in connection with the Australasian Wesleyan Missionary Society was last evening held in the Centenary Church, York-street. After the usual religious opening service, the Rev. W. Curnow said that this meeting would be somewhat after the type of the first missionary meeting held in the city of Antioch, at which Paul and Barnabas reported to the Church, what they had seen and what they had done. The speakers would be chiefly if not entirely missionaries very recently from the work, who would be free to make their several statements, unencumbered by formal resolutions. And he was happy to say that Mr. John Dawson had kindly consented to occupy the chair. Mr. Dawson said that at all times he had been a man of very few words, and had no intention now, when so many speakers fresh from the mission work were waiting to address the meeting, to abide his rule in that respect. The Rev. R. Bellows then read extracts from the published report. The sum established by this circuit to the funds of the society amounted to £176 12s. 10d. The meeting was then addressed by the Rev. J. Nettleton, who a few days since arrived from Fiji by the John Wesley, after eleven years' labour in that group. He spoke of the success which had followed the preaching of the Gospel in those islands, where, as every where else, it has proved to be the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; spoke of the encouragement and assistance freely rendered to the missionaries by the white population—who, when he had stone church in Levuka was completed promptly contributed the sum of £100 required to open it perfectly free from debt; of the liberality of the Fijians in the support of their ministers; defended the planters from the charge of being in any way concerned in the kidnapping which had been practised for the purpose of procuring labour—a system which they abhorred, and to repress and punish which the Fijian Government had adopted measures of the most stringent character; spoke of the Government itself, which has the entire confidence of the respectable white inhabitants, and a great majority of the native chiefs, its chief difficulty being in regard to finance. The Rev. William T. Rabone, who arrived a few days since from the Friendly Islands, spoke of the state of the mission in that archipelago. The last speaker was Mr. Wood, the Premier of the Fijian Government, who said that he was happy to bear his testimony to the wonderful effects which have resulted from the labours of the Wesleyan ministers in Fiji, as well religiously as socially and morally; all for whom there would have been at this day no government at all in those islands. He took the opportunity, on behalf of the Government, of thanking the Rev. Mr. Nettleton for the thorough and satisfactory way in which this evening he threw back the slander that the Fijian planters are slaves, or in any way encouragers of the slave traffic which has been carried on in vessels sailing on these colonies. It is a system which the planters, as a body, utterly detest, and a nuisance which the Government will strain every nerve to destroy. The Rev. J. Tait was delighted to reference to his missionary experience in Fiji. The Rev. W. Curnow then, in the name of the congregation, congratulated the Rev. Mr. Nettleton on his safe return to the colonies after so long and so successful a period of labour. A doxology was sung, and the Benediction closed the meeting.

"ESAU AND JACOB."—Last night the Rev. James Merlin, B.A., of Melbourne, delivered a lecture on "Esau and Jacob, or God's law of selection" before a large audience in the Baptist Church, Bathurst-street. After the extract of his discourse he referred to the three-fold promise given to Abraham:—That God would make of him a great nation, would give him the land of Canaan, and that in his descendants all the families of the earth shall be blessed; and also to Abraham's purpose in regard to Lot, which was to keep him in the land of Canaan, but at the same time to prevent him from mixing with the Canaanites. He contrasted the character of the son with that of the father, and showed that although Lot lacked the courage, enterprise, and originality of Abraham, he still had his father's faith, and in "flying over again the walls that his father had leap" he was asserting the position in which Abraham had established him in the land,—was consolidating the work of which his father was the pioneer. Esau and Jacob may be considered as the representatives of their parents, not in creation, but separately; and the parents' partialities was calculated to increase rather than counteract their disposition. The lecturer noticed the prediction given to Rebecca at their birth, "That the elder should serve the younger;" that the promises which Isaac had received from Abraham were to be transmitted to the line of Jacob alone. Malachi read this opinion, "Jacob I have loved, but Esau I hated," and Paul quoted the passage as showing that, when God in a great purpose to fulfil, He was no respecter of persons, but He chose out the best man, the best nation, the people most fitted for His great purpose, and worked through them—that descent, nationality, primogeniture, or anything else should not stand in the way of His purpose. The teaching of Scripture was not, as many had imagined, that God had a partiality for Esau—that he picked out certain persons whom He meant to be saved after all circumstances, and certain others whom He meant should remain hopelessly unsaved. God's purpose was to bless the world, to declare His wisdom, and love, to make all men know that he would have them to be saved, and to this end he selected with utmost care most fitted for his benign purpose. The lecturer illustrated and enforced this argument by a sketch of God's providential dealings with the Jews, and by leading events in the history of the Christian Church. With regard to Esau and Jacob, he said that there was no question that although Esau had sold, and proceeding to justify why the selection of Jacob was made, he graphically sketched his ideal of Jacob's camp in the south of Canaan, introducing the brothers as living men, as the Jew. His description served to bring out the leading traits of their character; and (divested of fanciful and partly embellishment) the lecturer's estimate of the Jewish character pretty much to this: Jacob was deceitful, designing, unscrupulous, and selfish; Esau, genial, generous, in impulse, with generous humour and good nature leaning from his frank, ruddy face; a true man of the field, with whom seeing was believing, a thoroughly practical man, one who would carve his own destiny rather than wait in God to carve it for him. Jacob was deceptive, but he could sought to defraud; he sought his own, but sought it by cunning and contrivance rather than by direct attack. What was intended by the "birthright" and the "blessing"—Jacob and Esau's estimation of them—of their comfort, as also that of Isaac and Rebecca was discussed by the lecturer, whose remarks were designed to establish the position that the conduct of Isaac in regard to the "blessing" was wrong, and that equally which was done was fruitless, inasmuch as God did not receive the blessing in consequence of the act. He also traced how each of the four parties concerned really followed upon their wrong doing. The lecturer then left Esau's ambition to become the conqueror of the city of Enoch, where rock-hewn cities, such as he has, were described, and whose smiling fields and wooded hills afforded fine scope for hunting or for war. Esau had faith in the promises of God, in the birthright as a blessing, and would not give up the mountains of Seir to become a wanderer in the promised land. His first growth and power were glanced at. In a few generations, his posterity were numerous and strong enough to intercept the Israelites on their way to the promised land; in a few centuries one of his descendants was on the throne of Judah, and sought to take the life of Hezekiah, Jacob's lineal heir; while centuries later another was of those who crucified Him. Esau would not have been "a man" to labour and to wait. He would have made a Judas Maccabæus, and force constitution at the point of the sword, constituting his adversaries to prove the power of God; but a Luther or a Paul he never could have been; a leader in the Church he never was meant to be. A father of a spiritual people, to which the highest potential, he never could have been, if God set him aside. His love was all carnal. Jacob's career was also passed in review, special reference being made to the incident at Bethel, and to God's conversion at the brook Jabbok. Jacob needed a period of stifling and breaking before he could be fitted for God's purpose. There was life, but much disease that called sloughing away; there was gold, but much amalgam to be brought out from the fire. The views of his character showed themselves at Haran; but although he was given to plotting and planning, he was perpetually taken down in the end. He thought it better to get away. When he came to Jabbok it was as though God had said to him—"Until now you have worked in a way to accomplish my purpose, but you have worked a way of your own, you have trusted to yourselves and not to me. You cannot go back to the promised land until you lay your human contrivances aside; until you come to glory only in me, and to take the steps I lead, and cannot let you go." From that time forth he was a Christ man, year by year he ripened for heaven, with his faith in the blessing grew stronger. God's law of life was this: he who lived to himself, who lived for his present life, who lived without faith, could not take part in the promised, no place in the kingdom of heaven. He might have all that he aimed, but the grave would bury all his hopes. He who lived by faith in God, faith in his promises, faith in Christ, might live with many a fall, might need much winnowing and much bruising. The faults of his nature might spring up afresh and again like trees deep rooted in the earth; in spite of all his faults and all his sins, his faith was counted to him. And when Esau, who begins with so many a promise and so many an opportunity, because he had no faith in anything above himself, even deeper down and he never nearer when the day, Jacob—who begins with faults which all condemn, faults repellant to all—shall have risen to his one purpose by his one faith in God—will rise even higher until his faults are all abundant in the distant past, and he in character, in hope, in joy, shall stand at the very summit of the ladder that has been earth to heaven. The lecture was preceded and closed by devotional exercises.

A CURIOUS CASE.—A case is reported in the French Argus of a singular nature. A man, named Barbier, brought a claim of £5 against Government for damage done to a crop of lucerne by the erection of a French post in a corner of his paddock, combined with the injurious effect of the dew that fell from the telegraphic wires. The Commissioner, to whom the claim was made, referred the claimant to the local Bench for a certificate of damage, and the local Bench referred him to appraisers. The latter estimated the damage at £25. We would advise the Commissioner to come to some compromise at once (say the journal), for, should the estimate of the damage Barbier's lucerne keep increasing at that rate, we shall require a new loan to meet it.

ROYAL SOCIETY.—The monthly meeting of members of this society was held last evening at the Exchange. The chair was occupied by Mr. G. Robertson. The chairman explained that the secretary, Mr. Carlisle, was still too ill to attend to his duties, which were in his absence being discharged by Mr. Charles Moore. Mr. Moore was not aware that it was usual to send printed notices of the meeting to every member of the society, and that duty had been omitted with regard to the present meeting, which would probably account for the thin attendance. The chairman also read a letter from the Smithsonian Institution, in New York, announcing the transmission of certain books which, however, have not yet arrived in this colony. Mr. G. M. Stephen was then called upon to read his paper on "Australian gems." He had a number of gems in cabinets, which he exhibited to the members present. A short discussion followed the reading of the paper, and then a vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Stephen. Mr. H. C. Russell, Government astronomer, then read the following astronomical notes:—In a letter from the known double stars near the South Pole I have recently found the following, which are not in Herschel's, or any other catalogue in the Heavens, and are therefore probably, new double stars. 1872, July 31. Found a very pretty double magnitudes 9 and 9½; R. A., 12h. 43m. 16s.; declination, 56 degrees 37 minutes 30 seconds south; distance between them, 2.15 seconds; angle of position, 135 degrees 47 minutes; mean of 6 measures with power, 230. July 31. Found but not measured till August 7th, another double star not so close as the last. Magnitudes, 9½ and 11; R. A., 17h. 3m. 16s.; declination, 68 degrees 13 minutes 30 seconds; distance between them, 3.47 seconds; angle of position, 210 degrees 3 minutes; mean 4 measures power, 160. August 1st. Found a nice double star, magnitudes 7 and 9; R. A., 14h. 46m. 6s.; declination, 67 degrees 28 minutes 30 seconds; distance between them, 5.56 seconds; angle of position, 336 degrees 29 minutes; mean of four observations power, 160. When measuring Herschel's double star 4905; R. A., 16h. 55m.; declination, 69 degrees 57 minutes south, of which he says, "A very symmetrical little constellation of two large and three very little stars forming a pentagon. I found a sixth star quite as large as the three small ones, which forms, with the two large ones, an almost equilateral triangle within the pentagon so conspicuous, that if these Herschel must have seen it. This must be either a variable or a new star." On the motion of Dr. Garran, seconded by the Hon. P. Lord, a vote of thanks was unanimously accorded to Mr. Russell for his interesting notes. After some discussion arose in reference to the telescope at the observatory, the Hon. P. Lord moved,—"That a deputation, consisting of the President of the Royal Society, the Rev. W. Scott, Dr. Wright, Mr. R. C. Russell, Captain Onslow, and Mr. G. M. Stephen, wait upon the Hon. the Premier of the colony, with the view of obtaining the necessary funds for purchasing a telescope for the observation of the transit of Venus." The motion was seconded and agreed to.

ST. CATHERINE'S SCHOOL FOR GENTLEMEN'S DAUGHTERS.—Yesterday afternoon a bazaar was opened in the Church Society's Room, in Phillip-street, towards defraying the expenses of St. Catherine's school, at Waverley, wherein the daughters of country clergymen of the Church of England are educated. This educational establishment has now been in existence for several years, and has been taken advantage of by many of those for whom it is specially intended. The bazaar was visited shortly after its opening yesterday, by his Excellency Sir Hercules Robinson, Lady Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. St. John, who stayed in the schoolroom for a considerable time. The Bishop of Sydney was also present. The room to which the contents of the stalls were displayed was decorated with wreaths of evergreens and banners, while the stalls themselves were covered with fancy articles of all kinds, shapes, and sizes, many of them the handiwork of the fair stallholders, who exercised their powers of persuasion on the numerous visitors with very marked success. The bazaar will be opened again to-day, but will be closed by 9 o'clock in the evening.

PIGEON MATCH.—A grand handicap pigeon match, got up by Messrs. Gannon and Sharratt, came off yesterday at the Randwick Racecourse. There was a very large attendance of spectators, and thirty persons took part in the shooting, Bathurst, Goulburn, Parramatta, and other country districts being represented. The arrangements for the accommodation of the "knights of the trigger" were very good indeed, and Mr. O'Brien entered under the Grand Stand. The competitors were divided into squads, and the shooting was from three traps. The match commenced at 6 o'clock and terminated in the evening, the score resulting after 2 o'clock being placed at some disadvantage on account of the strong N.E. wind. Messrs. W. Gannon, of the Oxford, and Mr. C. Sharratt, who for the handicapping also acted respectively as umpire and holder of the stake, and gave every satisfaction. The birds were supplied by Mr. Galvin, of Newcastle, who for by very well. The handicap worked well, and no complaint was made. The following are the scores for 31 shots each:—

The left Macdonald the winner of the first prize, amounting to £45. The ties were shot off by Messrs. W. Campbell, R. Hill, and A. Davis. Mr. Campbell won the second shot score birds in succession, and divided the second and third prizes, Davis missing his fourth bird. Mr. J. Roberts acted as scorer.

ANGORA GOATS.—Mr. C. Clark, of Warwick, writes as follows to the Brisbane Courier:—My attention has been called to a paragraph in the Sydney Morning Herald of the 24th ultimo, in which the following remark made by your reporter at the last Toowoomba Show is quoted:—"Of Angora goats Mr. Clark was the only exhibitor, and it does not seem that the cultivation of this animal in large numbers will ever become popular on the Downs, although the climate and soil are both fine and adapted for them." I saw this remark at the time, and did not consider it necessary to take any notice of it. But when I find it quoted by such papers as the Sydney Morning Herald and the Australasian, I think it ought to be contradicted. I am also in hopes that some other reporter could have come to any such conclusion, and I shall be much surprised to find that he has any practical experience on the subject. Perhaps he will have no objection to enlighten the public and myself as to the means by which he arrived at such a conclusion. I have now tried these animals for three years with invariable success, and have considerable trouble to study their habits, are, and have to study how to manage them, if they are to be of any profit. Balladering premises at pat; contributors, 2s 3d to 8d. A dividend may be expected by the shareholders of this company about the middle of next month.

The Argus of Saturday reports of the Melbourne markets:—

Business in the import markets to-day has been fairly active, and sales to a considerable amount have been effected. In breadstuffs there has been very little doing, owing to the unsettled state of the market, and quotations have ruled much lower for the present nominal. For oats there has been a steady demand, and 600 bags have been placed at 3s 3d to 3s 6d per bushel for ordinary to prime feed oats. Maize remains unchanged at 3s 10d to 3s 11d per bushel for prime, for which a large business has been done. Of the teas per E. M. Young, 2000 half-chests have been cleared at from 1s 4d to 1s 6d per lb in bond, the bulk being from 1s 1d to 1s 3d. Of this cargo, which originally consisted of 11,200 packages, 8000 of which were transhipped, 5000 have now been sold leaving only 3300 packages in importers' hands, the fine condition of these teas attracting the favourable notice of the trade. The cargo of the Rachel, the second arrival with new season teas, was offered at auction this afternoon, and sale attended a very large attendance, and the auctioneers succeeded in disposing of more than half the quantity offered, the remaining portion being from 1s 1d to 1s 1d per lb. in bond; and we learn that further transactions are pending. In sugars, outside the auction mart there has been little doing. The cargo of the Victoria, the Arrival of which at Port Melbourne was announced yesterday, the whole, with the exception of two lines, was cleared off at 20s 3d to 27s for good consumers, 27s 6d for good grays, 28s 6d to 29s for yellow grainy curts, 29s 6d for fine yellow boiling, crystals, 30s 6d to 31s for grey crystals, 31s 6d to 32s 6d for good to fine white, and 33s for fine white centrifugals. Tallows have been more in demand, and some 40 tuns and packets have been placed at 3s 6d for fine Kangaroo, and 3s 4d to 3s 6d for medium quality Tasmanian. Sales of currants to the extent of 105 barrels are mentioned at 5d per lb, duty paid. In liquids we notice a better demand. Dagger street has been placed at 12s 6d, and Hennessy's pale brandy, 18s; has reduced to 6s per gallon, and a large parcel of brandy, neat brands, has changed hands, the exact price not being disclosed. In metals, a shipment of 50 tuns bar iron has been taken up at an extreme figure. Messrs. Hunt sons, Cunningham, and Co. report the first arrival of the new clip of wool at the Australasian Wool Stores on Thursday, 5th instant, being a consignment from Messrs. George Dill and Co., of the Hill Station, Murrumbidgee district. Mr. H. A. Caffey reports having sold by private contract the undermentioned vessels, viz.:—Brig Wolverine, 197 tons register, to Captain George Graves, of Hobart Town, for £1850; schooner Orinalina, 52 tons register, to a party of Sydney gentlemen who are about to embark on a good fishing venture, for £800.

MINING.

WEDNESDAY.

A SLIGHT dulness perceptible in the Share market at the beginning of the week has increased considerably. To-day it was very marked, and sales less numerous than for some time past. Tambaroora stocks were weaker. Beyers and Holtermans sold at 48s. 6d., All Nations at 10s. 9d., Browns at 18s. 6d.; Carroll Beards opened at 28s., and sold down to 26s. 6d.; Greenfell Consols were done at par, and Hermans at 7s.; Krohmanns continue steady at 49s.; Paxtons were dealt in at 17s. 6d. to 18s., sellers asking 18s. 6d.; Rapps seem liable to more changes than anything on the hill; business was reported on 'Change at 18s. 3d., and they were afterwards offered at 17s.; Hawthornes have declined from par to 1s. dis. There was more inquiry for Pupa., 63s. to 65s. was paid, sellers at 70s. Copper shares are exceedingly flat; Mount Perry brought 30s., more obtainable at that price; Peak Downs declined from 6s to 6s; Normanby offered at 15s. Strong inquiry for coal shares; offers of 8s for Wallsend, holders asking 10; Hulls changed hands at 12. No sales of tin, except 200 Rex at 2s. 6d.

Large specimens of quartz from a reef struck in the Band and Albion mine, at a depth of 340 feet, are on view at Messrs. Melhado and Curtis's office. Coarse gold is visible all over the stone.

We understand that a dividend of 5d. per share or equal to 12½ per cent. on the paid up capital will be declared next week by the Queensland Tin Co.

The Oriental G. M. Co. has decided to raise fresh capital by the issue of 200 preferential shares. The creation of additional capital is also intended by Tippetts G. M. Co.

Messrs. Richardson and Wrench report having sold by public auction to-day:—Gold shares: 50 Krohmanns at 48s 6d., 225 Beyers and Holtermans 48s. 6d., 250 Carroll and Beards 28s, 100 Rapps at 18s., 25 Paxtons at 18s., 25 Browns at 18s., 105 ditto at 18s. 3d., 100 Dayspring at 17s. 6d., 100 All Nations at 10s., 1 share Comet Claim, Wattle Flat, £15.

Messrs. Sandeman and Binny report that Mr. Hayes, of Bundarra, and Mr. F. B. Mulligan, of Inverell, have been appointed local directors of the Inverell Tin Co.

Band and Albion Console yield this day:—47 oz. 17 dwts. The work has been delayed through ventilation being partially suspended by north winds.

Mr. A. Lamb sends from Sofala the following telegram:—"Wattle Flat.—From the Cafferati claim, Big Oakey, a trial crushing of thirteen tons from a reef three to four feet wide, yielded 32 oz. 5 dwts. Tax tons from Moyle's Old Surface Hill, gave a return of 36 oz., or 3 oz. per ton. Weather fine.

The specimens of gold found at Gulgong on Saturday last at a depth of fifty feet, were taken from the Red Hill reef.

Crown Prince G. M. Co., Chambers Creek.—The manager reports the main shaft down 30 feet, and slabbed up 27 feet; the cross shaft down 60 feet; the stabling is very good. The reef is still double in one end. Quartz very good looking, of a dark streaky blue. Work progressing satisfactorily.

The following telegram has been received from the manager of the Broadwater Tin M. Co.:—"The mine looks splendid, and we are crushing 1 ton a week."

The manager of the Eclipse Tin M. Co., Inverell, reports that he has obtained payable prospects, and that all necessary arrangements have been made for immediate operations.

Scientific Tin M. Co.:—Mining manager reports, by telegram, "That he has ten tons of ore on hand, which, with nine tons already cast, makes nineteen tons obtained to date."

THE TIN DISCOVERIES IN NEW SOUTH WALES AND QUEENSLAND.—The Western Daily Mercury, a Plymouth paper, says:—The discoveries of tin in New South Wales and Queensland have created, of late, considerable anxiety on the part of the Cornish tin smelters; so much so, indeed, that they have resolved to send forth with a commissioner, to report upon the prospects, and that at once report thereon. A few days since, we received a sample of tinstone, brought from New South Wales, which made an assay of 73·48 per cent., pin 78s, and oxygen 21s. This tin is almost every colour of the rainbow—amber, garnet, gray, &c. When made the discovery of tin in New South Wales of more than usual importance is that it is found at the foot of the granite mountains, which is a feature of very considerable importance; but the price of labour in that part of the world is a very important consideration. In New South Wales labour cannot be obtained for less than 4s. 6d. per day, a very important difference in the cost of producing the article. A correspondent says the tin market is at present paralyzed so far as the Cornish smelters are concerned, as they buy with the utmost possible caution."

AN ACTOR'S EXPERIENCES OF "FAINT PRAISE."—Mr. Buckstone, in responding to the toast of the "General Theatrical Fund" at the annual dinner which was held lately, told the following capital story in illustration of "faint praise" being the most depressing of all forms of encouragement:—"I recollect when I was a young actor," said Mr. Buckstone—"and that is many years ago—I was like most youthful aspirants, anxious to gain praise from any one; and to give you an idea of the faint praise I once met with, I must inform you I was at that time given by my manager a very good part to act, which, being received by the public, as we say in the playbills, with 'roars of laughter,' I considered that my future was made. A worthy vendor of newspapers—a great critic and patron of the drama—asked me for an order. On giving him one I called next day, expecting to hear a flattering account of my performance, but to which it scarcely alluded. However, being determined to learn what effect my acting had produced on him, I nervously put the question by saying, 'Did you see me last night?' to which he replied, 'Oh, yes.' 'Well,' said I, 'were you pleased?' and he again replied with his 'Oh, yes.' I then came to the point, by putting the question to him, 'Did you like my acting?' After a momentary pause, he again rejoined, 'Oh, yes; you made me smile.'"

THE SLAVE TRADE.—POLYNESIAN AND OTHER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—I have been for some time in receipt of certain serious leaders and letter, directing attention to the slave trade, and rejoice to observe that the English Press is also becoming increasingly active in the matter.

One London journal remarks as that "we live in an enlightened and advancing age," for, "when Boswell wrote his Life of Johnson he gave thanks that there was a House of Lords, wise and independent enough to stand up for a traffic which God had sanctioned, and man continued."

Quite now stands most unanimously distinguished as a great head quarters of slavery, and has no longer the United States to help to keep her in countenance. You will have observed Mr. Thomas Hughes's recent motion in the British Parliament, that an humble address be presented to her Majesty, to urge upon the Spanish Government to fulfil long-exploded treaty obligations. The debate that followed was most encouraging, however unsatisfactory Lord Enfield's reply may be considered. Ferdinand of Spain at the peace received £400,000 from Blackbird as indemnification, yet the most shabby and disreputable evasions were adopted to neutralise the force of treaties, and the labour market of Cuba, with the concurrence of the Spanish Imperial Government, was stealthily supplied with captured and enslaved Africans.

It would seem also that this state of things has grown worse instead of better, for whereas an estimate of Cuba's slave population some thirty years ago gave 300,000, I observe in a recent influential geographical work, the population of Cuba detailed as follows:—1,396,619; whites, 994,000; slaves, 370,000; Chinese, 17,000; and the remainder free negroes and mulattoes.

The general African slave trade is stated also to be greatly on the increase, and this seems very probable, from the indubitable increase of Mahommedan power in Africa.

Sir Samuel Baker tells us that Khartoum, almost every house of an Egyptian official to contain slaves, notwithstanding the pretended action of the Egyptian Government for the prevention of the traffic.

I mention these matters for one reason, because they show that setting repenting our own fast increasing Polynesian slave trade, lest we some one moment too soon. The slave trade has of late years taken great encouragement, and might be expected to show its colours, as it has done, in so tempting a field as our own adjacent archipelago.

Brazil alone, with a population of over seven millions, has been relinquished to contain more than two millions of slaves; and, returning to Africa, we are informed that at Zanzibar, the Bishop of Madagascar, writing to Mr. Gladstone, by a treaty with England, more slaves have, within the past twenty years, passed through its Custom-house, than during a century previously.

The following extract from one of the speeches at the late Mayo demonstration, I think, is worth reading. "We thought, a little while ago, that slavery was dead; but slavery in Africa has recently assumed awful proportions. The slavery of the West Indies, the Southern States, are as nothing when we consider what is now going on there. The whole of the interior of the country is slave ground. A French philanthropist calculates that 70,000 slaves are annually deported from Africa. This does not, of course, touch the immense inter-African slave trade. And this is not the worst, for one slave from five to ten human beings fall. The statement is made that the whole route of the slave caravan from Bornu to Tripoli, (as for as from London to St. Petersburg) may be traced by the bones and skeletons of those who have fallen."

Well, we really a little while ago, did seem to think that the slave trade was in great abeyance, if not dead, as the speaker puts it.

Now, however, we are convinced to the contrary in these seas, and a very great and most difficult work of repression lies before us.

Mr. Cuthbert's raking schooners will be likely to have no sinecure, and the whole enterprise should command our earnest and earnest prayers.

Who will give Sydney a good lecture on the slave trade, with perhaps, his Excellency the Governor in the chair?

Yours, obediently,

M.

THE Randwick Spring Meeting will be continued to-day, and, having opened so well on Saturday last, there is every reason to believe that the meeting will be as successful as the most enthusiastic lover of the turf could desire. The principal event set for decision is the Great Metropolitan Stakes, for which it is likely some twelve or sixteen horses will face the starter. From the manner that the weights were first published Toothpicker was made the favourite, and he held that position until about ten days ago, when he failed to please his friends in a trial with Lady Clifden and Bina Peter, and since then has fall

PUBLIC COMPANIES.

PROSPECTUS of the MOUNT TABOR COPPER MINING COMPANY (Limited), COBAR DISTRICT, PORT BOURKE.

Capital £72,000, in 72,000 shares of £1 each.

BANKERS:
The Commercial Banking Company of Sydney.

SOLICITORS:
Messrs. Holdsworth and Brown.

BROKERS:
Messrs. French, Brothers and Co., 16, Macquarie-place.
Mr. T. Garrett, 307, George-street.

Twelve thousand shares in the above Company are now offered to the public on the following terms, viz.:—
The shares will be considered to be paid up to 10s; 1s will be payable on application, and 1s on the issue of scrip; the remaining 8s, or as much thereof as may be required, in calls not exceeding 1s, and on not less than one month's notice.

Shares will be allotted according to priority of application, and the list will be closed on Monday, 16th September, when a meeting of shareholders will be held and directors appointed; and, should any of the 12,000 shares then remain unallotted, they will be disposed of by the directors in such manner as may be considered most conducive to the interests of the Company.

After noting a few of the special advantages to contributing shareholders in this Company, the brokers will rely upon the appended report of that well-known mining authority, Mr. J. B. Butler, for that favour from the public, the genuine character of the investment, and the liberality of the terms, entitle them to expect.

The selections, comprising 600 acres, were made by six of the Cornish miners during their engagement at the Great Cobar Mine, and in consequence of the abundance of the same never-failing indications of rich copper that were found on the surface of that now celebrated mine, which is distant only about two miles.

The assumed course of the main Cobar lode is North 20° West, which direction will carry it for upwards of a mile through the lands of this Company.

The present proprietary includes the original selectors, and the sole object in extending the Company by the sale of a sixth interest is to raise sufficient capital to commence operations on such a scale and in such a manner as will assure them of a large and speedy return.

The only object being the production of copper, there is no cash asked for by the proprietors beyond the cost of floating the Company; the whole subscribed capital will remain the property of the Company, to be applied in producing copper, upon the quantity and value of which the proprietors are content to rely for their future gain, and to share the risks of obtaining it with the public.

The greatest natural difficulties attending mining in this rich copper district, viz., those pertaining to water supply and carriage of produce, have to a great extent been overcome by the operations of the companies in that work.

The cost of carriage from the mines to the smelting works at Adelaide is ascertained from the experience of the Cobar Company not to reach £6 per ton.

The difficulties with regard to labour that usually so much retard and make results uncertain in new mining districts, are in this case reduced to a known maximum, in consequence of six of the proprietors, who hold a large interest, being thoroughly practical and LOCALLY experienced Cornish miners, who are ON THE GROUND, and whose services can be availed of. This very great consideration, coupled with the stipulation that ALL the subscribed capital (less brokerage) is to be applied in developing the mine, ought to be sufficient guarantee that PRODUCTION and not SPECULATION is sought for when asking capitalists to invest in this mine.

The Brokers wish specially to point out the very easy terms offered to contributors, whose WHOLE LIABILITY does not extend 6s per share, any calls that may be required being payable in very small sums and after ample notice; and further, that on payment of a dividend, WHATEVER AMOUNT THEY MAY HAVE PAID UP, they will be in precisely THE SAME POSITION with reference thereto as the original proprietors.

The Brokers wish also to refer to the last Report of the Cobar Company, from which it appears that the first parcels of ore they have smelted (about 150 tons) yielded 20½, 28½, 29½, and 19 per cent. of pure copper respectively; and lest it may be thought the proposed working capital will be insufficient, on reference to the same Report it will be found that upon calls amounting to £1200 the net receipts from copper sold in Adelaide were £3049 13s 6d, and that they then had ore in hand awaiting the arrival of the steamers worth at a very low estimate £4740 net.

The £3000 available by the terms of this prospectus should therefore be ample to place the property in the position of a dividend-paying one.

Forms of application and all information may be obtained from the Brokers, who beg to draw attention to the annexed Report.

THE SHARE LIST WILL CLOSE ON THE 17TH SEPTEMBER.

REPORT.

"Sydney, August 22nd, 1872.

"To the Shareholders in the Mount Tabor Copper Mining Company, Cobar, near Bourke.

"Gentlemen,—Having been requested to visit the Mount Tabor Copper Mine, I beg to hand you in my report upon it.

"The above property consists of twelve blocks, with a total area of four hundred acres, partly leased and partly purchased land, taken up south of and adjoining the Fort Bourke Company.

"The direct cause of taking up this land for mining purposes appears to be the surface indications which accompany the copper lode in this almost unknown but rich mining district. These indications consist of a quartz reef or mass of quartz veins and an ironstone reef traversing the country parallel with one another, their distance apart being, at one spot where I measured it, four chains. This formation indicates the neighbourhood of copper below, and in one shaft further north it became copper ore of high quality at a depth of twenty feet, where sinking but a vein of ironstone was visible on the surface. This being the case, the ironstone reef becomes an important indicator, and where land has been taken up, it appears to have been chiefly on the evidence of this dark lode of oxidised iron and manganese.

"The copper, iron, and quartz seem to have a course bearing N. 20° W., extending along a chain of low hills where the indications, from subterranean causes, appear most prominent and defined. The bed rock in this district, inclines about the lodes by iron, quartz, and clastic veins, and on the western slopes of these little hills the presence of ore is indicated by the comb of the slate standing erect and out of ground.

"I judge your property to lie about S. 20° E. from the Cobar, a portion of it taking in one of the hills I have mentioned, and the usual indications of the lode are as pronounced and clear in the Mount Tabor as in any other of the mining properties here, the Cobar itself of course excepted; but beyond a hole sunk about five feet upon the ironstone, which presents a very promising appearance, no work has been done by which an opinion can be safely formed of the value of your property.

"Two or three trial shafts should be sunk upon the ironstone, with the view of testing your property, for the surface indications are undeniably good, and may lead on to copper at a sufficient depth, for the Cobar lodes can hardly fail to traverse some portions of your lands.

"I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,
"J. B. BUTLER."

THE LAST OF THE RICH CLAIMS ON HAWKINS HILL!

PROSPECTUS of BLUNT'S ROSE OF AUSTRALIA GOLD MINING COMPANY (Limited), HAWKINS HILL, adjoining Paxton and Co.'s, Brumley's, and Vickery's great Extended.

Capital £12,000, in 12,000 Shares of £1 each.

2s 6d on application, 2s 6d on allotment, 2s 6d on the issue of Scrip; balance in calls of 1s per month as required. Out of the proceeds of which the present Proprietors will place £1000 to the credit of the Company, and which sum is expected to be more than will be required to make the claim a DIVIDEND-PAYING CONCERN.

The present Proprietors show the confidence they have in the affair, by taking up 7000 Shares.

The property now offered to the public consists of four men's ground, being 156 feet in the line of reef, and is surrounded by the most famous rich claims on Hawkins Hill.

The appended report from Mr. Proppall (late of the Gold Commission) explains fully the prospects and position of the claim; the report was written some time back, and shows that the opinions then entertained by him are now fully verified. The concluding paragraph says:—

"This is no speculation, no company forming for prospecting veins, but really a good mine, thoroughly proved by the surrounding claims, and only requiring a small capital, judiciously and economically expended, to make a handsome dividend-paying mine, and as such, I have great pleasure in drawing the attention of the investing public to it."

—Vide report.

The present proprietors have been working upwards of two years at this claim; have already cut payable veins that will yield several ounces to the ton. Its reputation as a golden claim is thus fully proved; but, in order to cut the richer veins, MORE CAPITAL is required, and this is the sole reason for placing the property on the market.

As soon as the list is closed, a meeting of shareholders will be held, to elect directors.

Applications for shares to be made to the broker, from whom prospectuses and forms of application may be obtained.

This Company is formed to work 50 acres of rich alluvial ground, situated at Were's Point, Burrendong, which is formed by a bend of the rich Gudgegong River, at its junction with the Macquarie River, 400 yards along the banks, and leased to the Company for 21 years, at a license of 10s per month for every working miner employed thereon.

The proprietors, after thoroughly satisfying themselves of the value of the ground, have purchased a 16-horse power engine, and 300 feet of 7-inch pumping, with all necessary gear, &c., at a cost of £760; and expended in labour, carriage, material, excavation of reservoir to hold 120,000 gallons of water, cutting races, and laying out the work generally, a further sum of £760, together £1520, which will be a first charge against capital, leaving a balance of £1600, which will be ample for all purposes in getting into working order.

Subjoined is the professional report of J. J. Coates, Esq., C.E.

As the prospects of this undertaking, which is a bona fide venture, afford the hope of a speedy and lucrative return upon the money invested in it, the capital has purposely been made as small as possible, and as little more than half the subscribed capital will suffice to commence work it is expected that the whole of the money will not be required.

It must be borne in mind that half the capital is actually represented by machinery purchased, and work already completed.

Sydney, 3rd September.

"Sydney, August 22nd, 1872.

"To the Were's Point Sluicing Company.

"Gentlemen,—I do myself the honour to furnish you with the following report descriptive of your property.

"This property (twenty-five (25) acres in extent, part of Were's Point, is situated upon the right bank of the Macquarie, commencing at its junction with the Gudgegong or Mudgee River, and extending round a semi-circular bend of the first-named river, as shown upon the accompanying map.

"The ground consists of a deep accumulation of auriferous terrace or river drift, varying in depth from surface to about twenty-two (22) feet deep, containing gold.

"From time to time this property yielded considerable quantities of gold, and was worked under great difficulties, as having to cart the wash dirt from the terrace top to the river for the purpose of washing.

"With the view of rendering these auriferous deposits available for ground sluicing, a 14 horse-power engine, with boiler, lift of pump, piping &c., has been erected at a spot upon the Macquarie River advantageously situated, and it is contemplated at this point to raise the head of water to a height of 50 feet, at which height such water supply will not only command the Were's Point terrace drift, but also a considerable extent of similar auriferous deposits upon the Macquarie River, above the machinery site.

"For the purpose of utilising the maximum water supply, a flat water reservoir has been constructed near the ground to be worked. Here a volume of 120,000 gallons can be collected, and diverted into different directions for ground or box sluicing, with a FALL OF FROM 50 to 60 FEET FOR THE TAILINGS.

"Generally, I consider that if your Company's sluicing operations be conducted systematically, they will prove highly remunerative, and under such circumstances I recommend your sluicing venture.

"I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,
"Your very obedient servant,
"J. J. COATES, C.E."

PROSPECTUS of the WILEY CREEK TIN MINING COMPANY (Limited),

Capital £4000, in 16,000 Shares of 5s each.

BANKERS:
Oriental Bank.

BROKER:
Thomas Garrett, 307, George-street.

8000 Shares are offered to the public on the following advantageous terms, viz.:—
1s on application, 1s on allotment, the balance in calls, if required, not to exceed 3d per share per month.

The proprietors retain 8000 fully paid up shares, and out of the application and allotment moneys they will place £300 to the credit of the Company. The proprietors will pay all preliminary expenses in floating the Company.

The proprietors offer to the public 42 acres of richly proved tin land, situated on a tributary of the celebrated Wiley Creek, and an original selection of Mr. Lebsland.

The ground has been tested, and about two tons of ore have already been taken out, one man washing in a dish, in less than four hours, 50 lbs. weight of ore.

This being an original selection by a thoroughly practical miner, the proprietors feel no hesitation in asserting, therefore, the undersigned can confidently recommend it as a genuine investment, which cannot fail to prove highly remunerative, the ore being of the richest quality (as assay) yet produced from any mine.

As soon as the Company is formed, a meeting will be called, and directors, &c., will be appointed from the general body of the shareholders.

About 2000 shares have already been applied for privately.

The annexed assay by Mr. Twemlow will show the rich character of the ore:—

[Copy of Assay.]

"Mr. Thomas Garrett, Mining Agent.

"Sir,—I have received sample of tin ore left by you, and find it contains tin at the rate of seventy-six and a half per cent. (76 8-16).

"I am, &c., yours,
"TWEMLOW, Assayer,
"283, George-street, Sydney."

Dividends payable on all shares alike.

Samples of the smelted tin and ore can be seen at the office of the Broker, and all other information furnished.

PROSPECTUS of the OBERON PIONEER DIAMOND AND GOLD MINING CO. (Limited.)

Capital £20,000, in 20,000 Shares of £1 each.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS:
W. W. Hilpert, Esq. | Dr. Garran
Thomas Rowe, Esq.

SOLICITOR:
William Smith, Esq., 32, Hunter-street.

BANKERS:
The Bank of New South Wales.

10,000 fully paid-up shares and £1000 cash out of the first subscribed capital are reserved by the Proprietors; 10,000 shares are offered to the public, 1s payable on application and 1s on allotment, and the balance (if required) in calls not exceeding 1s per share per month.

This Company is formed for the purpose of purchasing and working the forty acres of freehold land, the property of Mr. Peter Landers, of Oberon, Fish River, on which the large diamond was recently found by Mr. Creed.

From the report by Mr. Gaines it will be seen that the creek which intersects the ground, and the length of which on the property is about 2100 feet, is highly auriferous, and also contains diamond drift, and that a very small outlay will be sufficient to make the workings remunerative.

The auriferous drift has been tested by eight shafts at a depth of 10 feet, and has been traced through the whole length of the ground. The thickness of the washing stuff ranges from 1 to 4 feet.

Two of the Provisional Directors have been on the ground, and report highly of the prospects.

Application for shares may be made in the form annexed to
W. F. MANNING,
At the office of Mr. Hillyard,
32, Hunter-street, Sydney,
where the large diamond and samples of the gold may be seen.

FORM OF APPLICATION.

To the Provisional Directors of the Oberon Pioneer Diamond and Gold Mining Company (Limited), 32, Hunter-street, Sydney.

Gentlemen,—I hereby request that you allot me shares in the above Company, and now enclose 3s per share as deposit, and I hereby undertake to accept the above shares, or any lesser number that may be allotted to me, and to pay 3s per share on allotment, and also the calls as specified in the Prospectus, and to sign the Deed of Settlement when required to do so.

PROMOTERS PROSPECTUS.

CORNSTALK TIN MINING COMPANY, in 48 Shares of £10 each.

This Company is being formed to purchase and work 120 acres of valuable Tin land, situate on both sides of Dookookoorie Creek, border of Maryland, N. S. W., and forming the northern portion of the ground selected by the original prospectors of this creek.

Three gentlemen (A. E. Oxley, Esq., J.P., returning-officer for New England, and M. Spesting, Esq.), from their extensive knowledge of the locality gained during many years devoted to equalling pursuits thereto, were enabled to select land of the most undoubted value, unsurpassed by any in the district.

The creek traverses the entire length of the property, and is a large inexhaustible running stream.

There is a large deposit of wash-dirt, which yields from 1 lb. to 2 lbs. of fine ruby tin per dish.

The undersigned has washed over 1 lb. of tin to the dish from washdirt taken from the surface, near the margin of the creek.

Being situate about three miles from the Great Northern Road, and within forty miles of the Warwick Railway Station, cheap carriage is always procurable.

Another portion of Messrs. Cullen and Spearing's ground is being worked on tribute, and if the shareholders thought proper to adopt this mode of working, it would probably prove advantageous to their interests.

THE PROPRIETORS PLACE £150 to the CREDIT of the Company.

Having personally prospected and carefully examined the ground, the undersigned can confidently recommend it as an investment certain to return

LARGE AND IMMEDIATE DIVIDENDS.

Samples of the ore can be seen, and all information obtained from
J. C. NEILD, Jun.,

 Half-shares are obtainable.

SUGARLOAF RUBY. PROMOTERS' TIN COMPANY.

It is proposed to form a Promoters' Tin Company to purchase the lease and work 50 acres of very rich tin land, situate on the celebrated Sugarloaf Creek, Queensland, close to the Arborin and other well and favorably known mines.

The 50 acres in question have a large frontage to Sugarloaf Creek, and have been proved to be highly stanniferous, giving 3 to 7 lbs. to the dish of splendid ore, which has been assayed by Professor Watt, and found to contain upwards of 72 per cent. of pure tin, samples of which can be seen at the Office of the Brokers. The land has been surveyed, and has been rendered more valuable through the new regulations of the Queensland Government, under which selections for mineral purposes are restricted to a quarter of an acre. The Company is to consist of 40 subscribing and 12 non-subscribing shareholders of £50 each.

£140 will be placed to the credit of the company, the operations of which can, if economically conducted, be carried out with this sum, as there is an abundant supply of water as well as of ore, and excellent facilities for sluicing without the aid of machinery.

Terms—£5 per share on application, £5 on allotment, and the balance in monthly calls of £5 each, on notice being given through the HERALD of the formation of the company.

Applications for shares will be received by Messrs. LITTLE and PILE, Margaret-street; or by
J. F. BURNS, Lloyd's-chambers.

COCK, ATTWOOD, AND DWYER'S CLAIM, HAWKINS HILL, adjoining HICKSON, CREIGHTON and BEARD, and between BEYERS and HOLTERMANN'S and PAXTON'S.

Capital £60,000, in 60,000 shares of £1 each.

On application, 1s; on allotment, 1s; and the balance on all-insert. SHARES WILL BE ALLOTTED IN THE ORDER OF APPLICATION.

LIST CLOSED AS SOON AS REQUIRED NUMBER ARE TAKEN.

ONLY 46,000 SHARES ARE NOW OPEN FOR APPLICATION; THE REMAINING 30,000 HAVE BEEN ALREADY ALLOTTED.

It is proposed to form a company with above capital, to purchase this RICH and WELL-KNOWN GOLDEN CLAIM, adjoining HICKSON, CREIGHTON, and BEARDS.

The claim is the FULL DEPTH, and about 140 feet GREATER DEPTH than HICKSON, CREIGHTON, and BEARD'S, and will embrace all the known rich veins in that CELEBRATED CLAIM, as well as in the RICH CLAIMS of KROHMANN'S, BEYERS and HOLTERMANN'S, and PAXTON'S.

Attention is invited to the PRESENT MARKET VALUE of the adjoining claims on each side of this property. The following purchasers afford satisfactory evidence of the PUBLIC ESTIMATION of HAWKINS HILL CLAIMS:—

Paxton and Holman—market value ..	..	£140,000
Creighton and Hickson and Beard—ditto	..	90,000
Beyers and Holtermann—ditto ..	..	180,000
Krohmann—ditto	..	200,000
Carroll Beard—ditto ..	..	135,000

The mine is in FULL WORKING ORDER, at present there are 22 men employed; the SHAFT and WORKINGS below are in the most PERFECT CONDITION, everything having been done from the commencement that prudence and practical mining experience could suggest.

There is work in sight for years without sinking or driving for the OTHER RICH VEINS now producing such large yields to KROHMANN'S and BEYERS and HOLTERMANN'S. All expenses connected with the working of the mine to date of formation of this company, and with its formation, including preparation of deed of settlement, and issue of first scrip certificates will be arranged by the proprietors, and the claim, with all plant and quartz then raised, will be handed over FREE OF ALL LIABILITIES.

The sum of £1000, to be returned to the proprietors out of the proceeds of the first crushings, will be paid to the CREDIT OF THE COMPANY to pay expenses of the mine from its formation to the first crushing, which can take place NEXT MONTH, a considerable quantity of quartz being ALREADY RAISED.

Immediately after the shares are applied for and allotted a meeting will be called to SELECT DIRECTORS. The DEED of SETTLEMENT will be READY for SIGNATURE, and SCRIP CERTIFICATES READY FOR ISSUE not later than the 30th INSTANT.

Applications, in the annexed form, accompanied by the deposit on application, are now being received by
LENNON and CAPE, Brokers,
136, Pitt-street.

FORM OF APPLICATION.

PROSPECTUS of the HOMEWARD BOUND TIN MINING COMPANY (Limited), INVERELL.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS:
The Hon. Sir James Martin, M.P.
The Hon. John Robertson, M.P.
S. H. Terry, Esq., M.P.
E. A. Baker, Esq., M.P.

Capital £7600, in 30,400 Shares of 5s each.

20,000 retained by the proprietors, and 10,400 are offered to the public on the following terms:—1s on application, 1s on allotment, and the first call of 1s; after which calls not to exceed 3d per share per month, if required. It is estimated that not more than the first call will be required, as all the preliminary work is done and paid for.

This Company is to be formed for the purpose of working 100 acres of carefully selected land on both sides of the Gilgai Creek, within a few chains of its junction with the celebrated Middle Creek, and in close proximity to the Ponds, where enormous prices have lately been given for its ground, and only distant from Inverell four miles, the locality affording daily proof of immense deposits of rich tin ore.

The ground was selected by practical miners, and presents many positive advantages, both from its alluvial stanniferous flats, with permanent supply of water, and the strong indications of a lode in the locality.

The tin produced—a sample of which is now on view at the broker's offices—has yielded between 76 and 77 per cent., and is known to be amongst the best tin in the Inverell district. Huts have been erected, and the ground—as will be shown from the extracts given hereunder—has been prepared for immediate and extensive operations, which guarantee quick and permanent dividends. For the improvements effected and the preliminary costs, the proprietors ask from the subscribed capital the sum of £700.

Dividends will be declared on all shares alike.

PROSPECTUS of the LAC-MA-LAC CONSOLS GOLD MINING CO. (Limited), NEAR TUMUT.

Capital, £10,000—in 10,000 shares of £1 each, payable 2s 6d on application, 2s 6d on allotment, and balance as required, in calls not to exceed 2s per month. £600 fully paid-up shares and £1000 cash reserved for the proprietors.

TRUSTEES:
Messrs. H. P. Faiser and T. S. Ward.

BANKERS:
Australian Joint Stock Bank, Sydney.

The Lac-Ma-Lac Reefs have lately had very considerable attention drawn to them in consequence of the continually rich crushings from a few of the earlier developed claims through which they run, and for the purpose of their better development, by employing capital to work them systematically and effectually, it is proposed to form the LAC-MA-LAC CONSOLS G. M. COMPANY, consisting of three leases in one block of nearly TEN ACRES, known as O'Hara's Grant, and Morris's, situated between the lease of Lac-Ma-Lac Company No. 1 (stone from which yielded over 10 oz. to the ton), and Fitzgerald, Dent, and Co.'s 5-acre lease, crushings from which gave a return of from 3 to 10 oz. to the ton.

Several distinct lines of reefs run through these claims, the principal of which are the BLUE REEF, Leader or Fitzgerald's, Madman's, a newly discovered vein marked No. 1 on the plan, another marked No. 2, besides a new gold-bearing vein recently struck in Master's tunnel, and traced through Morris's lease 300 feet. This vein is 4 inches wide, and showing good gold.

Crushings of 16 oz., 42 oz., and 144 oz. to the ton have been obtained from shafts, the deepest of which is not more than 90 feet deep. From greater depths it is confidently anticipated that the yields will increase in proportion, the whole of the reefs already opened up proving such to be the case.

The reefs of the leases forming the LAC-MA-LAC CONSOLS G. M. CO. is as follows:—Grant's 66 yards along the reefs; O'Hara's Blue Reef, 45 yards; Leader, 27 yards; Morris, 45 yards; making a total extent of workable ground on Blue Reef, 405 feet; Leader, 270 feet; and Madman, 270 feet.

Crushings at Wilson and Co.'s machine, as shown by their books, are as follows:—

1871.—March 31, Hallinan and Co., 18 tons—32 oz.; Fitzgerald, 6 tons—53 oz. 10 dwts.

May, Green and Co., 14 tons—2 oz. 6 dwts.; Hallinan and Co., 88 tons—31 oz. 5 dwts.

June, Fitzgerald, 34 tons—23 oz. 4 dwts.; Green and Co., 14 tons—5 oz. 7 dwts.

October, Hallinan and Co., 144 tons—24 oz.; ditto, 24 tons—5 oz. 15 dwts.; Green and Co., 3½ tons—6 oz.

May, Wheeler and Barker (from Madman's), 2 tons—20 oz. 6 dwts.; Hallinan, 19 tons—166 oz. 14 dwts.

Little more need be said to prove the wealth lying in the leases now offered to the public. Such facts as above mentioned speak for themselves; and these, together with a consideration of the low rate at which they are offered to the public, will make this one of the most continuously remunerative investments ever offered, and promise to give good dividends for many years to come.

A new crushing-machine will shortly be erected by the Lac-Ma-Lac Co. No. 1 on a site adjoining this Company's ground, thus reducing the cost of carriage to a minimum.

Shares will be allotted as applied for, and early application is necessary.

All shares will participate alike in profits.

A meeting for the election of directors will be called as soon as allotment is complete.

Full reports of the Lac-Ma-Lac Consols Gold Mining Co.'s leases, by EDWARD ROUSE, Esq., can be seen, and prospectuses and plan obtained, at the Office of the Company, 389, George-street, near the Telegraph Office.

PROSPECTUS of the SOUTH SHAKESPEARE GOLD MINING COMPANY, BOX RIDGE.

Capital £6000, in 6000 Shares of £1 each.

2s 6d on application, 4s on allotment, calls not to exceed 1s per share, at intervals of not less than one month.

TRUSTEES:
Dr. Charles Mueller
P. L. C. Shepherd, Esq.

This Company is being formed to work a 10-acre lease adjoining the Shakespeare Company's justly-celebrated claim, from which stone is now being raised which is confidently expected will yield from six to ten ounces to the ton.

There are five distinct reefs running through the ground—all known to be gold-bearing.

There will be a crushing-machine erected within a quarter of a mile of the claim,—the affording every facility for crushing the stone.

It is confidently expected that this Company must eventually be amalgamated with the Shakespeare and the Lord Byron Companies (the latter recently floated), which probability in itself will give an increased value to the claim, as both the above mentioned Companies are favorite investments, and, if the three are amalgamated, it will be one of the most valuable properties in the Western district, consisting of an area of 20 acres, and nearly half a mile on the line of reefs.

PROSPECTUS of THE TRUE BRITON TIN MINING COMPANY (Limited),
130 ACRES of the Richest TIN DEPOSIT, on the Ponds, Middle Creek, Inverell.

Capital, £8000, in 16,000 Shares of 10s each.

2s 6d per share payable on application, 2s 6d on allotment, and the balance in calls of 1s per share monthly.

Out of the calls £1000 will be placed to the credit of the Company for working expenses.

Dividends on all Shares alike.

The Proprietors will subscribe for 8000 Shares themselves.

This Company is being formed for the purpose of purchasing and working two selections, comprising 130 acres of the richest Tin deposit in the far-famed district of Inverell.

The land is situated on the Ponds Creek, one of the branches of Middle Creek, about a quarter of a mile above the Moonbi-street bridge, on the Creek, and intersecting, running through the centre of the blocks, and consists principally of made ground, with a large depth of washdirt.

Prospects have been taken from various portions of the ground as high as 4 lbs. to the dish, while three men have washed out 44 buckets of tin ore in a day, a large sample of which is now on view at the office, 10, Barrack-street.

The ore has been smelted, yielding 76 per cent. of pure tin, and a bar or ingot of the smelted at Fairbridge's is also on view.

Preliminary operations have been commenced; a substantial hut for the men erected, races cut, the ground opened in several places, and a considerable quantity of tin ore obtained, so that it is not a matter of pure speculation, but a thoroughly tested and proved undertaking, and one in which the undersigned, from his knowledge of the character and respectability of the original owner, can with confidence recommend to the public as presenting all the elements of a great success; while it may be safely asserted that no tin company has yet been placed before the public with the same extent and richness of ground for anything like so small a capital.

As there are only 24000 worth of shares for sale, immediate application will be necessary.

All applications MUST be accompanied by the deposit, and first applicants will have the preference.

JAMES VICKERY,
10, Barrack-street,
Sydney.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

W. WESTGARTH and SON beg to direct the special attention of investors to the Prospectus of the ROYAL TANKARD, published in Saturday and Wednesday's HERALD, which it is estimated will prove one of the richest TIN MINES in the now celebrated district of the QUART POT CREEK.

Samples of ore may be seen in the window of Messrs HORSON and WHITING, Hunter-street, and at the office of the Brokers, 14, Spring-street, where plans of the mine and certificates may be seen, and prospectuses and all further information obtained.

IRONBARKS QUARTZ CRUSHING COMPANY.—A correspondent, writing in one of the dissenters, says:—"I have been to see the dam. I think they are going on very well; there will be no fear of any leakage through it. It is the most substantial piece of work I have seen for some time. You have got an extra good inspector—he thoroughly understands his work. The contractors appear to be very earnest in their work."

ROYAL HYDE PARK THEATRE COMPANY (Limited).

A few SHARES in this Company are still in the market. The interest derivable therefrom, according to calculations most carefully made will be equal to 17 18-20 per cent. per annum for fifty years. It is unquestionably the most certain and remunerative speculation in the city. The conditions of the lease secure the shareholders from loss by fire, consequently they have no risk whatever. The erection of THE BUILDING IS NOW IN PROGRESS, AND WILL BE COMPLETED BY THE FIRST OF DECEMBER NEXT.

Prospectuses and every information can be obtained, and shares secured, on application to
M. MOLONY,
Auctioneer,

PRELIMINARY NOTICE.

KISENSTANDTER'S NEW BANDA TIN MINES, STANTHORPE, QUEENSLAND, consisting of 320 ACRES ON QUART POT CREEK, adjoining the newly laid out township of STANTHORPE, 320 ACRES, embracing a portion of Quart Pot Creek, BROADWATER, and SEVERN RIVERS, will shortly be brought under the Limited Liability Act.

On three valuable properties (all purchased land) are stacked OVER 3000 TONS OF PAYABLE WASHDRIFT, and quantities of CLEAN STREAM TIN ORE are daily coming forward as the mines are in full work, and provided with all necessary machinery and plant.

It has been decided to form the above into a Proprietary Company on very favourable terms, and this notice is published to give intending investors ample time to make inquiries respecting the above. Further particulars on application.

HILLEND.

Eligible Investment.
To Capitalists and others.

1½ Acre of Land
Six-roomed House.

ALFRED NEWMAN has been favoured with instructions from Mr. Louis Myers to sell by private contract, all that valuable piece of Land, in the centre of Clarke-street, opposite to Hodgson's Store, and adjoining the Joint Stock Bank, having a frontage of about 68 feet to Clarke-street, an extensive frontage to the road to German Town and a street at the rear, together with a comfortable Cottage, of 6 rooms, out-houses, garden, orchard, and a never-failing supply of water.
The value of this property for business purposes needs no comment. As a business stand it is second to none in the town of Hill End. Persons in search of property for investment are strongly advised to make early application, as a chance like this seldom occurs. The only reason for its appearing in the market is the projected departure of the proprietor for Europe.
For all particulars and cards to view, apply to ALFRED NEWMAN, Auctioneer, Land and Estate Agent, Hill End.

PUBLIC COMPANIES.

PROSPECTUS of the WYNYARD GOLD SLUICING COMPANY (Limited) ADELONG.

Capital £10,000, in 10,000 shares of £1 each. 10,000 shares are already allotted, and 5000 are now offered to the public.

2s 6d per share to be paid on application, 2s 6d on allotment, and the balance in calls as may be required.

The capital is increased to extend operations.

Dividends payable on all shares alike.

This Company, as is well known, was originally formed with a very small capital for the purpose of prospecting and proving twenty-five (25) acres of alluvial land in the Adelong Valley, and a small plant was erected to suit the circumstances of the time.

The results of these preliminary and experimental operations have been highly satisfactory to the proprietors. Shafts have been sunk, and drives opened in every direction, which have proved the existence of a rich lead of gold over two hundred (200) feet wide, and four (4) to five (5) feet thick, thus showing an almost inexhaustible body of wash-dirt, which will provide years of profitable work.

A large proportion of the first capital was spent in erecting machinery, cutting races, &c., before getting into the ground, and MORE THAN HALF the amount called up has been returned from the actual profits of these experiments.

The same lead of gold has been struck in the adjoining ground, above and below the Wynyard, proving that it traverses this lease from one end to the other. The present trial workings show better prospects than any hitherto obtained, and are improving in richness as they go into the unworked ground.

Having now proved a rich and permanent mine, it is proposed to erect powerful machinery, and to work the ground on a systematic and extensive scale.

It is for this purpose that the new capital is required, and the erection of the new plant will, without doubt, make this one of the largest and most valuable mines in the colony, with a certainty of good and regular dividends.

The mine is working as usual, and the present machinery is fully and profitably employed, which could either continue so or be made available for the new works.

There is always abundance of water, and the plant now in use is driven by water-power.

The whole of the expensive improvements, machinery, gear, tracks, rails, tools, stock of timber, &c., will become the property of the new company.

Application for shares in the usual form (accompanied by the deposit of 2s 6d per share) to be made to Messrs. DELOITTE, BROTHERS, No. 3, Spring-street.

Early application is necessary.

PROSPECTUS of the CURRAJONG CONSOLS GOLD MINING COMPANY, BUSHMAN'S LEAD, CURRAJONG, 25 Miles North of Forbes.

To be registered under the Limited Liability Act.

Capital, £16,800, in 16,800 shares of £1 each.

7608 shares reserved for proprietors, and remainder offered to the public.

Terms—10s on application, and 10s on allotment.

Out of the subscribed capital, the sum of four thousand pounds (£4000) will be placed to the credit of the Company, for the working of the mine and erection of crushing machinery; which sum will be considerably more than sought to make this the

as yet offered to the public.

The Proprietors wish to draw the special attention of the public and investors to the fact that they bind themselves not to offer in the market any of their shares until after a dividend has been declared.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTOR:
The Hon. Robert Owen. C. K. Moore, Esq.

This Company is being formed for the purchase of and amalgamating FIVE consolidated rich and proved claims on the Buchanan Reef, Bushman's, Currajong, near Forbes, viz.:

No. 1.—North of Albion, about 161 feet on base line.
Albion, ditto 101 ditto ditto
No. 1.—South of Albion, ditto 171 ditto ditto
Prospectors', ditto 400 ditto ditto
No. 1.—South of Prospectors, ditto 400 ditto ditto
Giving a total of about 1292 feet, equal to nearly 18 acres in length on the new base line regulations.

The reef, which is about two feet wide, having been proved of the same character and richness through nearly the whole extent of the ground, from a depth of 82 feet, where it was first found in the alluvial workings, 150 feet present level,—places this property beyond a doubt a perfectly safe investment, and will yield unlimited large returns for years to come.

THE WORKING OF THE MINE WILL BE INEXPENSIVE.

There are now from 80 to 100 tons of stone at grass from No. 1 North and Albion claims (which will become the property of the Company, together with all stone daily coming to hand.) A trial crushing of 20 tons a few days back gave a return of 5d or 14 dwts. equal to 4 oz. 16 dwts. per ton, after the richest of the stone was reserved, a portion of which is now on view.

A machine can be continually kept going, thereby ensuring to investors a steady and immediate return for their outlay.

The report at foot, from a gentleman of long experience as a mining manager, will give an idea of how the ground has been tested; and since the date of his report sundry telegrams and letters advise of the increasing richness of the stone and further development of the reef.

Independent of reef at present being worked, another one—wide and payable—has been cut in sinking the north end claims.

Specimens of the quartz and plan of ground, together with sundry extracts from the Pioneer Times correspondent, can be seen at the Board Room, over Mr. C. TEAKLE'S, Auctioneer, No. 7, Wynyard-street, and where also every information may be obtained and applications received.

COPY OF REPORT.

"Forbes, September 4th, 1872.

"C. K. Moore, Esq.

"Sir,—In accordance with instructions, I have made a careful survey of your claims at Currajong, known as Buchanan's Reef.

"I find that a very large outcrop of a reef has been struck in No. 1 North and Albion claims in the alluvial, at a depth of 55 and 56 feet respectively.

"In the No. 1 North claim the reef has been opened up 36 feet north in the 110 feet level, and 24 feet south at the 103 feet level. The reef is well defined, with sandstone foot wall and slate hanging wall; lode from 18 inches to 2 feet wide.

"In the Albion claim the shaft has been sunk on the reef 52 feet, and a drive put in south 30 feet on the course of the lode, which is well defined and 2 feet in width. A trial crushing of 20 tons of stone from this drive yielded 5½ oz. 14 dwts. of gold. This was seconds stone, the best specimens having been kept out.

"In the No. 1 North and Albion claims at the 100 feet levels the reef has been opened up north and south 103 feet, and has gradually widened out from the 90-feet level to the present depth, and shows very strong underlay.

"The stone raised from the No. 1 North—and now lying on the surface—and the trial crushing of seconds from the Albion is a sufficient proof of the value of the reef without further comment.

"Prospectors' claim, Buchanan's, struck as west and west lode at 50 feet in the shaft, 6 inches wide, stone very rich; 124-foot level drive in west 16 feet cut an east and west leader about 9 inches wide, showing rich stone.

"No. 1 South cut reef in the 85-feet level 60 feet from the shaft east; a cemetery shaft has been sunk on the reef 16 feet, which is 12 inches at the bottom, and payable stone.

"I have no hesitation in stating that the reef in the Albion and No. 1 North claims will also be found in the Prospectors and No. 1 South at a deeper level, as they are on a direct line of the course of reef south.

"I remain your obedient servant,

"WM. DRUMMOND,
"Mining Manager."

☞ Since the above report was written, and under date Bushman's, September 9, a letter has been received, stating the Prospecting Claim struck the reef on Saturday, with good gold, two foot wide.

This Company is formed for the purpose of working a 10-acre lease on the Little River Gold-fields, near Braidwood; the ground was profitably worked in the year 1869 by a party of miners who, on discovery of the heavy floods in that year, were compelled to abandon their work. The results of the several crushings from the reef to which joined, and, in addition to these crushings, some extraordinary returns were obtained from quartz crushed by hand, the correctness of which is verified by the bank agent's certificate, and copy of Mint return received from the Deputy Master of the Mint.

Hitherto the success of mining enterprises in this lease has been arrested by the want of capital amongst the claimholders, who in no instance have been able to carry their sinkings to a depth sufficient to fairly test the real richness of the reef.

Of the richness of the reef on this ground, the following returns from the crushing mills, and letter from bank agent leave no room for doubt.

"I hereby certify that I have crushed 138 tons of quartz from the Homeward Bound Reef, which yielded 138 oz. 0 dwts. of gold.

(Signed) "E. FRANCIS."

"To Messrs. Hassall, Medbrell, Gentle, Payne, and Tweedie.

"Oriental, Bank, Braidwood.

"DEAR SIR,—In reply to your inquiries, I have to inform you that a parcel of gold, weighing 213 oz., was received from Messrs. Wiggings and party, of the Homeward Bound Reef, on 21st September, 1869. This gold was assayed from about 83 lbs. weight of quartz with an ordinary pestle and mortar. Some bags of quartz, weighing 5 cwt., were taken to the Mint by Wiggings and party, from which £817 14s. 2d. worth of gold was extracted. Several other large parcels of gold from this line of reef were taken to Sydney previously, of which I have no record.

"I am, yours faithfully,
"H. P. WILSON, agent."

"Royal Mint, Sydney, 9th November, 1869.

It is now proposed to sink a main shaft 300 feet; when this depth is reached cross drives will be put in to cut the reef. To complete this work and carry on the working of the mine, not more than £1000 will be required.

Applications for shares to be forwarded to Messrs. ROBERT MADDRELL, R. HASSALL, P. H. GENTLE, C. B. PAYNE, and G. TWEEDIE; or to Messrs. SMYTH and PEEBLES, Sydney.

PROSPECTUS of the PRIDE OF THE WEST COPPER MINING COMPANY, CARCOAR.

Capital £10,000, in 20,000 shares of 10s each.

Of which 3000 fully paid up shares, and £2000 cash, will be reserved for the Proprietors, and 17,000 shares are now offered to the public; 1s on application, 1s on allotment, and the balance in calls of 1s as required, at intervals of not less than one month.

The Company to be registered under the Limited Liability Act.

Dividends payable on all shares alike.

This Company is formed to work 80 acres of rich land on Slattery's Creek, twelve miles from Carcoar, and twelve miles from Orange; and, from the subjoined report of Captain Truscott, there are two well-defined copper lodes on the property. The proprietors confidently place this property on the market, believing that the public will appreciate the special advantages which they believe it possesses, and which they beg to enumerate.

1st. The capital is only £10,000, yet it is more than ample for the thorough development of the property, and the placing it in a dividend-paying position; and the presence of this moderate capital—which is of a bona fide venture—is such as to afford the shareholders a speedy and lucrative return upon the money invested. THE CAPITAL HAS PURPOSELY BEEN MADE as small as possible, and as one can be raised at once, it is expected that not more than half the proposed capital will be called up—this is a matter to which special attention is directed. The broker suggests that for enrichment it is far better to keep the capital as low as prudence will allow, to pay the promoters a proportion of cash, and not thousands of scrip, which are, on the formation of a company, placed on the market and sold at any price to the detriment of the contributing shares.

2nd. The particularly favourable position of the property, as the lodes can be worked by an adit, thus not requiring machinery for pumping and winding; and as the property is in the vicinity of several smelting works (the Islay in particular) the ores can at once on extraction be converted into cash. It is estimated that the carriage to Islay will not be more than 10s per ton. There is also a never-failing supply of water.

3rd. This is fairly and honestly a Promoters' Company in the true sense of the term, that is to say the discoverers of the mine and the inventors are here in this case brought together direct, without the intermediate, though highly fashionable but expensive medium of promoters, who too often come in between the discoverers and the bona fide inventors, and take what fairly belongs to the two.

4th. It being in the settled districts, where skilled labour for the extraction of the ore, and smelting or other extraction to market—TWO ALL-IMPORTANT REQUISITES are always readily obtainable.

5th. Before any cash is paid to the Promoters they desire that a Committee appointed from amongst the subscribers, or any Mining Engineer whom the subscribers may appoint, or both, may proceed to the property and report; if not approved of, the application deposit to be returned.

The Proprietors bind themselves to place no shares on the market until after a dividend has been declared.

As soon as the Company is formed, a meeting will be called, and Directors, &c., will be appointed from the general body of shareholders.

Many of the shares will be subscribed for in the locality.

For inspection of specimens, and for any other information, apply to

J. W. WATKIN,

Howick-street, Bathurst.

"Bathurst, 3rd September, 1872.

"Messrs. Cohen and Craig,

"Gentlemen,—I have the honour to inform you that, in accordance with instructions I received, I have inspected the property held by you near Carcoar, and, after having spent one day on the ground, beg to lay the following report before you.

"I found the lode opened in six different places by cuttings; one at the depth of twelve (12) feet, which shows the lode to be two feet wide, six inches of the same carrying ore at least 20 to 30 per cent of copper; the lode all nicely opened can be seen on the surface, and can be traced a considerable distance along the same, and I have no doubt will run the entire length of the property. This lode runs north-west by south-east.

"On the same property, west 100 yards, there is also a copper-bearing lode. This lode is considerably wide in the outcrop. When opened at the foot of the hill, this lode runs east and west, and will intersect the north-west by south-east lode, 120 yards from where opened. From various indications at junction of lodes when opened, and at little depth, you will find a rich deposit of copper ore. There is every facility on the ground for opening the mine thoroughly. From the west side of the hill an adit can be driven, which would give from forty (40) to fifty (50) fathoms of backs. This will prove to be a great advantage in working the mine, as it will be a considerable time before steam power will be required for hauling or pumping.

"In conclusion, I may say that I have formed a very favourable opinion of this property, from the fact that the strata are similar to that which prevails in the celebrated Cow Flat Copper Mine. There is abundance of fuel on the hills for smelting and mining purposes; and I feel confident that with a judicious expenditure of capital the mine will prove both lasting and paying.

"This property consists of two forty (40) acres leasehold situated 12 miles from Carcoar and 12 miles from Orange.

"I beg to remain, Gentlemen, yours obedient,

"WM. R. TRUSCOTT."

[Copy.] "September 11, 1872.

"Sir,—I have assayed sample of Copper Ore left by you and find it contains Twenty-two per cent. Copper.

It is proposed to form a company with above capital, to purchase this RICH and WELL-KNOWN GOLDEN CLAIM, adjoining HICKSON, CRICHTON, and BEARD'S.

The claim has nearly 60 feet frontage on base line of reefs, and is the FULL LENGTH, being about 149 feet. GREATER LENGTH than HICKSON, CRICHTON, and BEARD'S, and will embrace all the known rich veins in that CELEBRATED CLAIM, as well as in the RICH CLAIMS of KROHMANN'S, SEYERS and HOLTERMANN'S, and PAXTON'S.

Attention is invited to the PRESENT MARKET VALUE of the adjoining claims on each side of this property. The following particulars afford satisfactory evidence of the PUBLIC ESTIMATION of HAWKINS HILL CLAIMS:—

Hickson and Holman—market value ..	£140,000
Crichton and Hickson and Beard—ditto ..	90,000
Seyers and Holtermann—ditto ..	140,000
Krohmann—ditto	200,000
Carroll Board—ditto	120,000

The mine is in FULL WORKING ORDER; at present three are 22 men employed; the SHAFT and WORKINGS below are in the most PERFECT CONDITION, everything having been done from the commencement that prudence and practical mining experience could suggest.

There is work in sight for years without sinking or driving for the OTHER RICH VEINS now producing such large yields to KROHMANN and SEYERS and HOLTERMANN'S. All expenses connected with the working of the mine to date of formation of this company, and with the formation, including preparation of deed of settlement, and issue of first scrip certificates, will be arranged by the promoters, and the claim, with all plant and quartz then raised, will be handed over FREE OF ALL LIABILITIES.

The sum of £1000, to be returned to the proprietors out of the proceeds of the first crushings, will be paid to the CREDIT OF THE COMPANY to pay expenses of the mine from its formation to the first crushing, which can take place NEXT MONTH, a considerable quantity of quartz being ALREADY RAISED.

OVER 120 TONS of RICH QUARTZ are now ready for crushing, and the quartz from a FINE RICH WIDE REEF is being raised VERY QUICKLY, and will be available for DIVIDEND NEXT MONTH.

Immediately after the shares are applied for and allotted a meeting will be called to ELECT DIRECTORS. The DEED of SETTLEMENT will be READY for SIGNATURE, and SCRIP CERTIFICATES READY FOR ISSUE not later than the 30th INSTANT.

PROSPECTUS, WITH PLAN SHOWING POSITION OF MINE, and FORMS OF APPLICATION, may be obtained from the undersigned.

EARLY APPLICATION IS INVITED, AS THE LIST MAY CLOSE AT ANY MOMENT, AND NOT LATER THAN SATURDAY NEXT.

LENNON and CAPE,

PROSPECTUS of the MIDDLE CREEK TIN MINING COMPANY (Limited), INVERELL.

Capital £10,000, in 200,000 shares of 10s each.

20,000 fully paid-up shares are reserved by the proprietors, and 10,000 are now offered to the public.

5000 fully paid-up shares will be divided among the subscribers at the rate of 50 shares for every 100 shares subscribed for.

Terms: 2s on application, 2s on allotment, one call of 1s a month after the formation of the Company, and the remainder by calls of 2s per share, if required, at intervals of not less than one month.

Dividends will be paid on all shares equally.

All preliminary expenses, including the floating of the Company, will be borne by the proprietors.

This Company is proposed to be formed for the purpose of securing and working three twenty and one forty acre blocks of tinstuff land on Middle Creek, Inverell, now in possession of parties who, from the nature of their employments, are unable to attend to the mining portion, and are therefore compelled to dispose of their interest in these leases, although hitherto worked at a profit.

Of the £20,000 to be raised by the application and allotment payments, £600 will be placed as working capital to the credit of the Company, £1500 will be absorbed in purchasing the mine and floating the Company.

The blocks are situated thirty acres on one side and forty on the other side of Middle Creek, and are from the well-known Sydney Tin Mining Company's leased lands, and between the well-known Prospects and Modern Britons Companies' leases, and are described as being very rich in tin ore, and easily worked.

There is an abundant supply of water, and it is estimated that there will be sufficient capital to work the mine profitably without making more than one call.

5000 fully paid up shares will be divided among the subscribers in the ratio of five fully paid-up to every ten shares subscribed for.

A plan of the ground may be seen at the office of the undersigned, where any further information that may be required will be given.

Shares will be allotted as applied for, and the list will be closed as soon as sufficient applications are received.

Applications for shares in the annexed form will be received by

CHATFIELD and MACKENZIE,

PROSPECTUS of the TENTERFIELD TIN MINING COMPANY, WYLIE CREEK, MARYLAND (Limited).

Capital £6000, in 24,000 shares of 5s each.

BANKERS:
BROKERS:
Hoskins and Day, 105, Pitt-street.

6000 shares paid up to 1s 6d per share are reserved, and 18,000 shares are offered to the public—1s on application, and 1s 6d on allotment; should any further calls be required, not to exceed 3d per share per month. SUCH CALLS TO BE PAID ON THE RESERVED AND CONTRIBUTING SHARES ALIKE, BUT IT IS CONFIDENTLY EXPECTED THAT NO FURTHER CALLS WILL BE REQUIRED.

Out of the amount to be paid on application and allotment, all expenses connected with the formation of the Company will be defrayed, AND £1000 WILL BE PLACED TO THE CREDIT OF THE COMPANY FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE CLAIM.

This Company is being formed to work 80 acres of Tin land, being 4 twenty-acre selections, having 40 CHAINS FRONTAGE TO WYLIE CREEK, NEAR THE JUNCTION OF CEMETERY AND WYLIE CREEKS, MARYLAND. The land has been prospected, and proved to contain heavy deposits of Tin Ore, WHICH, IN SOME PORTIONS OF THE GROUND, HAS BEEN ASCERTAINED TO BE 4 FEET IN DEPTH. The selection immediately adjoins land originally taken up by Mr. Lawson, and subsequently purchased by Messrs. Platts, Harcourt, and Broomfield, on the very favourable report of Captain Pearce, Mining Manager of the Pioneer Tin Mining Company, Ruby Creek, Maryland, and IS IN THE VICINITY OF THE CELEBRATED CLAIM ON WYLIE CREEK, now being WORKED by Messrs. CHRISTIAN and COMPANY, from which ONE TON of TIN ORE is now being DAILY OBTAINED.

THERE IS A NEVER-FAILING SUPPLY OF WATER; and there are unusual facilities for sinking this land.

The attention of the public is directed to the fact that this is the first claim on Wylie Creek (which is known to be the richest stanniferous creek in the Maryland district) that has been placed in the Sydney market as a profitable investment for capital. A tracing, showing the situation of the claim, and a sample of Tin Ore can be seen at the Office of the Brokers, who will receive applications for shares, and from whom prospectuses can be obtained.

REDUCTION IN FIRE RATES.
THE AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE SOCIETY.
Capital, £100,000.

Only Society in the colony in which insurers, without liability, participate as shareholders. The profits are therefore compelled to dispose of their interest in these issues, although hitherto worked at a profit.

Of the £20,000 to be raised by the application and allotment payments, £600 will be placed as working capital to the credit of the Company, £1500 will be absorbed in purchasing the mine and floating the Company.

The blocks are situated thirty acres on one side and forty on the other side of Middle Creek, and are from the well-known Sydney Tin Mining Company's leased lands, and between the well-known Prospects and Modern Britons Companies' leases, and are described as being very rich in tin ore, and easily worked.

There is an abundant supply of water, and it is estimated that there will be sufficient capital to work the mine profitably without making more than one call.

5000 fully paid up shares will be divided among the subscribers in the ratio of five fully paid-up to every ten shares subscribed for.

A plan of the ground may be seen at the office of the undersigned, where any further information that may be required will be given.

Shares will be allotted as applied for, and the list will be closed as soon as sufficient applications are received.

Applications for shares in the annexed form will be received by

CHATFIELD and MACKENZIE,
Shareboakers, 69, Pitt-street.

PROSPECTUS of the TENTERFIELD TIN MINING COMPANY, WYLIE CREEK, MARYLAND (Limited).

Capital £6000, in 24,000 shares of 5s each.

BANKERS:
BROKERS:
Hoskins and Day, 105, Pitt-street.

6000 shares paid up to 1s 6d per share are reserved, and 18,000 shares are offered to the public—1s on application, and 1s 6d on allotment; should any further calls be required, not to exceed 3d per share per month. SUCH CALLS TO BE PAID ON THE RESERVED AND CONTRIBUTING SHARES ALIKE, BUT IT IS CONFIDENTLY EXPECTED THAT NO FURTHER CALLS WILL BE REQUIRED.

Out of the amount to be paid on application and allotment, all expenses connected with the formation of the Company will be defrayed, AND £1000 WILL BE PLACED TO THE CREDIT OF THE COMPANY FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE CLAIM.

This Company is being formed to work 80 acres of Tin land, being 4 twenty-acre selections, having 40 CHAINS FRONTAGE TO WYLIE CREEK, NEAR THE JUNCTION OF CEMETERY AND WYLIE CREEKS, MARYLAND. The land has been prospected, and proved to contain heavy deposits of Tin Ore, WHICH, IN SOME PORTIONS OF THE GROUND, HAS BEEN ASCERTAINED TO BE 4 FEET IN DEPTH. The selection immediately adjoins land originally taken up by Mr. Lawson, and subsequently purchased by Messrs. Platts, Harcourt, and Broomfield, on the very favourable report of Captain Pearce, Mining Manager of the Pioneer Tin Mining Company, Ruby Creek, Maryland, and IS IN THE VICINITY OF THE CELEBRATED CLAIM ON WYLIE CREEK, now being WORKED by Messrs. CHRISTIAN and COMPANY, from which ONE TON of TIN ORE is now being DAILY OBTAINED.

THERE IS A NEVER-FAILING SUPPLY OF WATER; and there are unusual facilities for sinking this land.

The attention of the public is directed to the fact that this is the first claim on Wylie Creek (which is known to be the richest stanniferous creek in the Maryland district) that has been placed in the Sydney market as a profitable investment for capital. A tracing, showing the situation of the claim, and a sample of Tin Ore can be seen at the Office of the Brokers, who will receive applications for shares, and from whom prospectuses can be obtained.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

THE WHEELER and WILSON SEWING-MACHINE (reduced price), has recently attracted so much attention and become so great a favourite with the public, that sales of counterfeit machines have in the most shameless manner advertised and exhibited in their stead machines under the well-known names,

"WHEELER and WILSON."

This is done in an artful manner, so as to avoid legal proceedings.

No imitation machine can compare with the original.
None work so well;
None last so long;
And, at the reduced prices,
None are cheaper.

No machines are genuine unless they have this trade mark on the cloth-plate—
